HISTORICAL SUMMARY.

THE early history of the ROYAL COLLEGE OF SURGEONS OF ENGLAND is the history of two Companies, which, existing at first as separate fraternities or guilds, were for a time united into one body corporate, and finally became resolved again into two distinct Corporations. One of these, the Barbers' Company of London, is first definitely mentioned, in the records preserved at the Guildhall, in the year 1308, when Richard le Barber was presented and sworn before the Court of Aldermen as Master and Supervisor of the Barbers' Guild; and from an Ordinance of the City made in the previous year it is evident that the Barbers of London were at that time engaged in the practice of at least some branches of Surgery. The other Company, known as the Fellowship or Guild of Surgeons, is mentioned in the City records in the year 1369, when two Masters were sworn before the Court of Aldermen and given power to report the faults of unskilful Surgeons.

Origin of the College.

The Barbers' Company first mentioned in 1308.

The Surgeons' Guild mentioned in 1369.

Between these two bodies there was for many years a keen rivalry and jealousy. Each tried by turns to attain supremacy of authority and jurisdiction in matters relating to the practice of Surgery. In the year 1376 the Barbers made a complaint to the Mayor and Aldermen against unskilled practitioners in Surgery, and obtained an Ordinance providing that two Masters should be appointed annually to direct and rule the Craft, to inspect instruments, and to see that none should be admitted to the franchise of the City except after attestation of their skill by good examination. Fourteen years later, however, four Masters of the Surgeons' Guild were sworn before the Court of Aldermen, and they were invested with the power of scrutiny among persons practising Surgery and with authority to present defaults. But in the year 1410 the Barbers obtained from the Court of Aldermen confirmation of the privileges granted to them in 1376 with the addition that they should

The Barbers' Company was by this time assuming a twofold character, for it consisted of two classes of members, those who were Barbers simply or practised only the minor branches of Surgery, such as blood-letting and tooth-drawing, and those who exercised the faculty of Surgery. In the year 1415 the Mayor and Aldermen required the Company to furnish them with a list of all the latter class of members, from which they selected two as Masters of those practising Surgery, leaving to the Company itself the election of the Masters of the Barbers. Meanwhile the Guild of Surgeons sought an alliance with the Physicians. About the year 1423, probably through the influence of Thomas Morstede (a Surgeon who accompanied Henry V. to Agincourt and who was afterwards Surgeon to Henry VI.), they obtained an Ordinance from the Court of Aldermen having for its object an association or Commonalty of Physicians and Surgeons. Fortified by the support of the Physicians, the Surgeons once more challenged the surgical privileges of the Barbers, but these were again confirmed by the Mayor and Aldermen in 1424. The scheme for a combination of Physicians and Surgeons fell through, but the Surgeons continued a separate body with Ordinances for the government of their Society. The volume containing these Ordinances, which were made in the year 1435, is still in existence and is now in the possession of the Barbers' Company.

Provisions of the Charter of 1st Edward IV.

Freed from opposition, the Barbers' Company continued to grow in importance, and in the year 1462 the right of its members to practise Surgery was definitely established by LETTERS PATENT granted by EDWARD IV. in the first year of his reign. This Charter, from which the Royal College of Surgeons of England, as recited in the Charter of 1800, dates its constitutional history as a body corporate, was granted to the Freemen of the Mystery of Barbers of the City of London practising Surgery. They were made one Body and Perpetual Community with a Common Seal and with power to hold lands and make Bye-Laws. Provision was made for the annual election of two Masters to rule the Community, to have the scrutiny and government of all persons practising Surgery in London and its suburbs, as well as the supervision of their instruments and medicines, and to have power to inflict punishment upon offenders by fines, imprisonment and other reasonable means. No person was to be allowed to practise Surgery within the City of London and its suburbs unless first approved by the Masters of the Company. The surgical rights of the Barbers' Company were thus firmly established, and, as testimony to the eminence attained by the Surgeons of the Company, it is worthy of note that the Senior Warden of the Company, when the Charter was granted, was WILLIAM HOBBS, Serjeant-Surgeon to the King—probably the first to hold that office.

In the year 1493 the Guild of Surgeons, which had continued as a separate body, entered into an alliance or "Composition" with the Barbers' Company, by which the two Companies agreed each to appoint two Wardens, the four so appointed to act together in all matters relating to Surgery and to the examination and government of its practitioners.

Alliance between the Barbers' Company and Surgeons' Guild made in 1493.

The Charter granted by Edward IV. to the Barbers' Company was confirmed by Henry VII. and also by Henry VIII., but in 1511 an Act (3 Henry VIII. cap. 11) was passed, constituting a further licensing authority by enacting that no person should practise as a Physician or Surgeon in London, or within seven miles of the same, unless first examined and approved by the Bishop of London, or the Dean of St. Paul's, with the assistance of four Physicians or Surgeons. Two years later, upon the petition of the Guild of Surgeons, another Act (5 Henry VIII. cap. 6) was passed, providing that a limited number of members of the Fellowship (or Guild) of Surgeons, as also of members of the Barbers' Company duly admitted as Surgeons, should be exempt from Constableness and Watch and from bearing arms and serving upon inquests and juries within the City of London.

Of the Act 5th Henry VIII. relating to exemption of Surgeons from bearing arms and serving on juries; 1513.

IN THE YEAR 1540 the two Companies, which had so long been associated by voluntary agreement, were formally united by Act of Parliament, and thus entered upon a new era in their career. The Act (32nd HENRY VIII. cap. 42) after reciting that there were two distinct Companies of Surgeons in London, one called the Barbers of London and the other the Surgeons of London, enacted that the two Companies should from thenceforth be united and made one Body Corporate, to be called by the name of the Masters or Governors of the Mystery and Commonalty of the Barbers and Surgeons of London. The United Company was to enjoy all the rights and privileges at any time granted to the two separate Companies. Four Masters or Governors, two to be Surgeons and two to be Barbers, were to be appointed annually: barbers were forbidden to perform any surgical operations, except the drawing of teeth, and surgeons were not to exercise the craft of barbering and shaving. Provision was also made for the study of Anatomy by giving the Company the right to claim four bodies annually of persons executed for felony. THOMAS VICARY, Serjeant-Surgeon to Henry VIII. and afterwards to Mary and to Elizabeth, was elected the first Master. The United Company shared the possession of Barbers' Hall, which is known to have occupied its present site in Monkwell Street since 1490 and was probably there even before that. The Hall, subsequently added to by Inigo Jones in 1636, is still standing, having escaped destruction in the Great Fire of London.

Origin of Court of Examiners in 1555.

The Union thus effected was destined to last for more than two hundred years. At first, however, the privileges conferred on the Surgeons of the Company appear to have excited opposition, for in the 34th and 35th years of Henry VIII. an Act was passed allowing unlicensed persons to treat outward sores and swellings with herbs and ointments.

During the reign of QUEEN MARY, in the year 1555, Regulations were drawn up relating to the examination of persons for the Company's Licence to practise. These Regulations provided for the appointment of thirteen Examiners, including the Master and two Governors. This is the origin of the Court of Examiners of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, although it was not until the time of Charles I. that the appointment of ten Examiners—the number continued to this day—was provided for by Charter.

Letters Patent of James I. and provisions thereof, 1605.

In the year 1605 the Company obtained a Charter from JAMES I. providing that the Governing Body of the Company should consist of four Masters or Governors, two of whom were to be Surgeons, and twenty-six Assistants. The Company was given power to examine Barbers and Surgeons, and to prohibit ignorant persons, or such as wilfully refused to be examined, from practising.

Letters Patent of Charles I. and provisions thereof, 1629.

In the year 1629 CHARLES I. granted a further Charter to the Company, providing that ten Freemen of the Company should be elected and constituted Examiners of Surgeons in London. No one was to practise Surgery in London, or within seven miles of it, except Members of the College of Physicians, unless examined and approved by the Examiners of the Company, and every person so approved might practise Surgery anywhere in England. Apprentices were to serve for not less than seven years, to be sound in body and limbs, and to read and understand Latin. The duty was also assigned to the Court of Examiners of examining Surgeons and Surgeons' Assistants for the Royal Navy and Merchant Service and of inspecting their instruments and chests of medicines. This duty they and their successors, the Company of Surgeons and the Royal College of Surgeons, continued to discharge until other arrangements were made at a comparatively recent date.

For many years the union between the two Companies appears to have worked smoothly, but as early as 1684 there were signs that the Surgeons were beginning to find their association with the Barbers irksome and inconvenient. In that year a Petition for the dissolution of the United Company was presented to the King, but the agitation died out, and it was not until many years later that further steps were taken in the matter. The dissatisfaction, however, continued. From the year 1540 the practice of Surgery had been entirely separated from that of barbery, and much progress had been made in surgical skill and knowledge. Under the United Company several of the Surgeons had attained great eminence in their profession, and among these may be mentioned Richard Ferris, Thomas Gale, the two Clowes', Wiseman, Amyand, Cheselden, Sir Caesar Hawkins, and Percivall Pott. The Surgeons resented the presence of Barbers at their examinations, and objected to the signatures of Barbers appearing upon Surgical Diplomas. In 1744 they informed the Barbers that they intended to petition Parliament for the dissolution of the union. The Barbers protested against this, and both parties presented Petitions to Parliament. The Surgeons prevailed, and in the year 1745 an Act of Parliament was passed dissolving the union and establishing two separate Companies. The Barbers were allowed to retain the whole of the Corporate property, real and personal, with the exception of the Arris Bequest and Gale's Annuity for Anatomy Lectures founded in 1646 and 1655 respectively. These Trusts the Act vested in the Company of Surgeons, and they are now administered by the Royal College of Surgeons.

appointed for life, of whom one was to be Master and two Governors or Wardens elected annually, and of whom ten were to be Examiners appointed for life. JOHN RANBY, Serjeant-Surgeon to George II. (whom he accompanied to the battle of Dettingen in 1743), became the first Master of the Company, and upon taking his seat he presented a handsome silver cup, which is still in the possession of the College. The First Wardens were JOSEPH SANDFORD and WILLIAM CHESELDEN. These appointments were made by the Act, which also specified by name the ten Examiners and sixteen Members of the Court of Assistants. The sixteen thus appointed were directed to meet forthwith, and select from the Freemen of the Company five others to complete the number of the Court. Thereafter, the Court were to meet on the first Thursday in July in each succeeding year for the election of the Master and Governors, and to fill up any vacancies, which from time to time might occur from death or resignation among the Examiners and Assistants. In addition to examining Surgeons for the Navy the Examiners were also required to examine all candidates for the posts of Surgeon or Surgeons' Mate in the Army. The Freemen of the Company were to enjoy the same Surgical privileges as approved Surgeons of the United Company had enjoyed under the Act of Union and Charter of Charles I., and, while in the practice of their profession, were to be exempt from all Parish, Ward, and Leet Offices and from serving upon Juries.

Surgeons' Hall
built.

The Surgeons had to find a new home, and, after holding their first meetings at Stationers' Hall, eventually secured premises in the Old Bailey and there built Surgeons' Hall, entering into occupation in 1751. Here the business of the Company was transacted until 1796, when the Court of Assistants, finding the building in need of substantial repair and their tenure of the premises secured for not more than fifty-five years, determined to dispose of the property and erect a new building upon a freehold site.

Difficulties
caused by irregular meeting of Court of Assistants in

About this time the Company became involved in difficulties in consequence of a provision in the Act of Incorporation which had unfortunately been framed without due regard to possible eventualities. This provision required that the Master and Governors, or any two of them, with nine or more members of the Court of Assistants, should constitute a Court for the despatch of business. On the 7th July, 1796, a meeting was held at which the Master, Mr. Gunning, presided, but at which no Governor was present, one having died in the previous May and the other being too ill to attend. Consequently it was impossible to obtain a properly constituted quorum. Nevertheless the Court conducted its ordinary business, and among other matters elected Henry Cline to the Court of Assistants. In spite of this technical defect in their constitution, the Court of Assistants continued to transact the business of the Company. They disposed of their property in the Old Bailey and acquired a freehold site in Lincoln's Inn Fields, upon which part of the present building of the Royal College of Surgeons of England now stands. The business of the Company was not suspended. Examinations were held and Diplomas were issued. The Examinations of Surgeons for the Navy and Army were also continued. It became, however, necessary to find some means of removing the legal difficulties which had arisen, and, for this purpose and also with the object of acquiring additional powers and authority, a Bill was introduced into Parliament. The Bill passed through the Commons, but was thrown out in the House of Lords; and after further deliberation it was determined to abandon the Bill and to petition for a Charter from the Crown.

Meanwhile Parliament entrusted to the care of the Company the Hunterian Collection purchased for the Nation at a cost of £15,000. The Collection was delivered to the Company under an Order of the Treasury, dated 28th November, 1799, and in March 1800 the Company was re-incorporated and constituted by the name of the Royal College of Surgeons in London, by Charter granted by George III. In the year 1806 Parliament voted a sum of £15,000, and subsequently a further sum of £12,500, in aid of the erection of a building for the display of the Hunterian Collection. A contribution of £21,000 was at the same time made from the funds of the College, and the Museum was opened to visitors in 1813.

The Charter of the 40th GEORGE III. definitively severed the connexion of the College with the Corporation of the City of London. Members of the College were not entitled to any franchise belonging to the Freemen of the City, but all other privileges and possessions acquired under former Acts and Charters, and not altered by the Charter then granted, were continued and ratified. The Court of Assistants still consisted of twenty-one Members appointed for life with power to fill up vacancies as they might happen, and from them were chosen the ten Examiners, the Master and two Governors or Wardens being selected from these ten. The two principal Serjeant-Surgeons and the Surgeon-

Titles of Master and Governors changed to President and Vice-Presidents, and Court of Assistants to be called Council.

Number of Council increased.

Constitution of Court of Examiners altered.

CHARLES HAWKINS, Serjeant-Surgeon to George III., was appointed the First Master, and WILLIAM LONG and GEORGE CHANDLER became the first Governors. All Members of the old Company of Surgeons, on signifying their acceptance of the Charter, were entitled to become Members of the College, and any person in the future desiring to become a Member was required to pass an examination and obtain "Letters Testimonial of his Qualification to practise the Art and Science of Surgery under the Common Seal of the College." In addition to examining candidates for the Membership, the Court of Examiners were required, as under the former Acts and Charters, to examine all Army and Navy Surgeons, their Assistants and Mates, and to inspect their instruments.

A further Charter, granted by GEORGE IV. in 1822, changed the titles Master and Governors to President and Vice-Presidents, and provided that the Court of Assistants should in future be styled the Council of the College.

No change was, however, made in the constitution of the College until the year 1843, when a new Charter (7th VICTORIA) was obtained, which changed the name of the College to The Royal College of Surgeons of England, and instituted a new class of Members, who were to be called FELLOWS, from and by whom the Council were to be elected. The number of the Council was increased to twenty-four, and, while the existing Members of the Council were allowed to continue in office for life, provision was made that three elected Members should retire annually, so that, when no more life-Members were left, it would not be possible for a Member to retain his seat for a longer period than eight years without re-election.

A great change was also effected by this Charter in the constitution of the Court of Examiners. They were no longer to be necessarily selected from the Council, but any Fellow, whether on the Council or not, was made eligible. The Examiners then in office were to continue for life, but all future Examiners were to hold office only during the pleasure of the Council. The Serjeant-Surgeons and Surgeon-General to the Forces were no longer to have any preference of being admitted Examiners, and the President and Vice-Presidents were not to be chosen exclusively from the Examiners but from all the Members of the Council indifferently, whether Examiners of the College or not.

The Charter further provided that the President, Vice-Presidents and Members of the Council should be Fellows, and directed them to elect, within three months from the date of the Charter, not less than 250 and not more than 300 Members of the College to be Fellows. They were also given power to appoint other Members to be Fellows within one year from the date of the Charter. With these exceptions no persons were to be admitted to the Fellowship except by examination, nor until attaining the age of twenty-five years. The first Fellows, 300 in number, were chosen mainly from the Surgeons, Assistant-Surgeons and Lecturers of the Metropolitan and Provincial Hospitals. They were elected under one general Diploma on December 11th, 1843. A further election of 242 Fellows took place on the 26th August, 1844, and these included a considerable number of representatives of the Naval, Military and Indian Forces.

Provision for election of the first Fellows.

In the year 1852 further extension of the principle of election to the Fellowship without examination was made by a Supplemental Charter (15th VICTORIA), which enabled the Council to elect Members of fifteen years' standing to the Fellowship, provided they were Members when the Charter of 1843 was enacted. The Council were also empowered to admit annually to the Fellowship, without examination, two Members of the College of twenty years' standing, and authority was given for the ad eundem admission to the Fellowship, under certain conditions, of Fellows by examination of the Dublin and the Edinburgh Colleges of Surgeons, and the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons of Glasgow. This Charter also provided that Members of the Court of Examiners thereafter elected should go out of office at the end of five years, but should be eligible for immediate re-election. Provision was also made for the appointment of a Board of Examiners in Midwifery for testing the fitness of persons to practise Midwifery, and Licences in Midwifery were granted to persons passing the Examinations of the Board until the year 1875, after which the Examinations were discontinued.

In the year 1859 the Licence in DENTAL SURGERY was instituted under the Charter of the 23rd VICTORIA, which empowered the Council to appoint a Board of Examiners for testing the fitness of persons to practise as Dentists.

In the year 1875 an Act of Parliament was passed to enable the College to associate itself with one or more of the Colleges or Bodies named in Medical Acts for the purpose of conducting joint examinations for qualifications to be registered under the Acts. In pursuance of the provisions of this Act the College subsequently entered into an Agreement with the Royal College of Physicians of London, establishing a CONJOINT EXAMINING BOARD and requiring that all candidates for the Licence of the Royal College of Physicians of London and the Membership of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, commencing professional study after the 1st October, 1884, should pass the Examinations of the Board before becoming entitled to their Diplomas. Thus was constituted the present Examining Board of the two Colleges. The Examination Hall on the Victoria Embankment, where the Examinations of the Board are held, was erected at the joint expense of the two Colleges. The foundation-stone was laid by QUEEN VICTORIA on the 24th March 1886, and the Hall was first used for examinations in the year 1887.

In the year 1888 a Supplemental Charter was obtained, mainly with the objects of enabling the College to hold lands and hereditaments of a greater yearly value than that previously sanctioned, and of allowing Fellows to record their votes at elections to the Council by voting-papers sent through the Post, instead of by personal attendance at the College, as required up to that time.

The last Charter, obtained by the College in 1899, the 63rd year of Queen Victoria's reign, enables the Council to elect persons, whom they shall deem to be sufficiently distinguished for the purpose, to be Honorary Fellows of the College. These Honorary Fellows, the number of whom must not exceed fifty at any time, are not eligible for the Council or for the Court of Examiners, nor are they entitled to vote at Elections to the Council. Their status is purely honorary and does not confer the right to practise Surgery. At the head of a list of distinguished names the College has the honour to place that of KING EDWARD VII. His Majesty, when Prince of Wales, became the first Honorary Fellow of the College, and, after ascending the Throne, signified his pleasure to retain the title.

The mode of Election of President and Vice-Presidents shall be as follows:—

1. Every Member of the Council present at the Meeting for such Election, having been furnished with a list of the Members of the Council, shall, if desirous of voting, put a mark against the name of one person in such list, and put the same into the Balloting-box; the papers shall then be severally examined by the President (or Presiding Member), and every name against which such mark shall have been put shall be read aloud by the Secretary, or person acting for him; and the person (if any) against whose name there shall have been affixed a number of marks representing an absolute majority of the Members of the Council then present at the Meeting, whether voting or not, shall be, and be declared to be, duly elected President.

2. In case it shall appear that no name in the said lists has a number of marks representing such absolute majority affixed against it, a second Ballot shall be taken, the name against which the smallest number of marks was affixed in the first Ballot being omitted and excluded from the second Ballot, and so on with subsequent Ballots, until some name shall have a number of marks affixed against it representing an absolute majority of the Members of the Council then present at the Meeting, whether voting or not, when the person against whose name such number of marks shall have been affixed shall be, and be declared to be, duly elected President.

3. If any difficulty shall arise with respect to any such Ballot by reason of the names of two or more persons having an equal number of marks affixed against them, the question shall be decided according to the seniority of such persons as Members of the Council, the name of the Junior being omitted and excluded from the succeeding Ballot.

4. The same procedure shall be adopted with regard to the Election of each of the Vice-Presidents.

3. Any Fellow or Member who shall have been removed by Resolution of the Council as aforesaid shall thereby forfeit all his rights and privileges as a Fellow and Member or a Member of the College; and his Diplomas or Diploma shall thereupon be void and shall become the property of the College, and be delivered up by such Fellow or Member to the College on demand, provided that if at any subsequent time the Council of the College by Resolution, and subject to such conditions as they may think proper, rescind any Resolution which may have been passed under any of the preceding Bye-Laws for removing any person from being a Fellow and Member or Member of the College, such rescinding of the former Resolution shall have the effect of restoring such person to the Fellowship or Membership of the College, and such person shall, notwithstanding such removal or forfeiture as aforesaid, but subject to such conditions as the Council may in the particular case see fit to impose, be restored to his rights and privileges as a Fellow and Member or a Member of the College.

HUNTERIAN ORATION.

In the year 1813 Dr. Matthew Baillie and Sir Everard Home, Bart., Executors of John Hunter, "being desirous of showing a lasting mark of respect to the memory of the late Mr. John Hunter," gave to the College the sum of £1684 4s. 4d. Three per cent Consolidated Bank Annuities for the endowment of an annual Oration, to be called the Hunterian Oration, and to be delivered in the Theatre of the College on the 14th of February, the Birthday of John Hunter, by the Master, or one of the Governors for the time being, or such other Member of the Court of Assistants as should be appointed by the Master and Governors or any two of them—such Oration to be expressive of the merits in Comparative Anatomy, Physiology, and Surgery, not only of John Hunter, but also of all such persons, as should be from time to time deceased, whose labours have contributed to the improvement or extension of Surgical Science.

The Endowment was accepted by the College under a Deed of Trust dated the 9th October 1813, containing, amongst others, the following conditions:—That the Fund should be vested in the names of three Members of the Court of Assistants; that £10, part of the interest accruing from the Fund, should be given to the Orator; and that the remainder of the interest should be expended in providing a Dinner, on the day of the delivery of the Oration, for the Members of the Court of Assistants and such other persons as the Master and Governors for the time being should think proper to invite.

In 1853, after consultation with the representatives of the founders of the Trust, it was decided that the Oration should in future be delivered biennially instead of annually.

ARRIS AND GALE LECTURES.

The Arris Lectures were founded in 1646 by Mr. Edward Arris, a Member of the Company of Barbers and Surgeons, of which he became Master in 1651. He was also an Alderman of the City of London in that year. He died on the 28th May 1676. His portrait in one picture with a portrait of Sir Charles Scarborough, who was appointed to deliver the Arris Lectures in 1649, is in the possession of the Barbers' Company.

From the Minute Books of the Company of Barbers and Surgeons it appears that on the 24th March 1646 Mr. Edward Arris paid to the Company a sum of £300 "for the use of the new publique Anatomy." This sum was subsequently repaid to Mr. Arris, and in lieu thereof he settled upon the Company an annuity of £30, which shortly before his death he redeemed by the payment of £510. By the Act of Parliament of the 18th George II (1745) for dissolving the Union between the Barbers and Surgeons this sum of £510 was given and vested in the Company of Surgeons then incorporated, and upon the dissolution of that Company became vested in the College.

In the final settlement of the Trust no conditions appear to have been imposed save an understanding that the Anatomy Lectures of the Company were to be continued. By an Act of Parliament passed in 1540 the Company were entitled to claim four bodies annually of persons executed for felony, and to make use of them for the study of Anatomy. The bodies were dissected, and lectures on the muscles and other subjects were given. The Surgeons of the Company were required to attend these lectures and demonstrations, which were called "Public Anatomies." The intention of Mr. Arris was to assist the Company in this work, and the lecturers appointed under this foundation were at first called "Readers of the Muscular Lecture."

Under the Company of Surgeons the Arris Lectures were from 1753 to 1766 delivered by the Masters of Anatomy, of whom the first to be appointed were Percivall Pott and John Hunter. In 1767 the office of Professor of Anatomy was created, and the Arris Lectures were assigned to him.

The Gale Lectures were founded by Mr. John Gale of Bushey, a Member of the Company of Barbers and Surgeons, who, by his Will, dated 13th August 1655, left to the Company an Annuity of £16, payable out of the rents of certain premises on Snow Hill in the City of London, for one Anatomy Lecture in every year to be called Gale's Anatomy.

This Annuity, together with the Arris Bequest, was by the Act of Parliament of 1745 vested in the Company of Surgeons, and upon the dissolution of that Company became vested in the College. In pursuance of Acts of Parliament passed in the 35th and 44th years of George III for the improvement of Snow Hill, the Rent Charge of £16 per annum was purchased by the City of London for the sum of £432, which sum, in accordance with the directions of those Acts, was invested in the name of the Accountant General of the Court of Chancery, until the same shall again be invested in some Real Estate, and the same was laid out in the purchase of £689 16s. 5d. Consolidated Bank Annuities, the interest thereof being paid to the College.

The earliest record of a lecture under this Trust is dated 30th June 1698, when it was "ordered that there be an Anatomy Lecture called Gale's Anatomy," and Dr. Havers, well known for his description of the canals in bone, since called Haversian, was appointed the first Reader. The Lecture was afterwards called the Osteology Lecture.

Under the Company of Surgeons the Lecture was at first allotted to the senior Master of Anatomy, and afterwards to the Professor of Anatomy.

At the beginning of the Nineteenth Century, lectures were for a time suspended at the College owing to building operations, but were resumed in 1810. It was then determined that six lectures should be delivered annually under the Arris and Gale Trusts. The lectures were no longer distinguished as "muscular" and "osteological," but were united into one course delivered by a Professor of Anatomy and Surgery. In 1857 the title of the lecturer was altered to Professor of Human Anatomy and Surgery, and in 1868 to Arris and Gale Lecturer. In 1864 the number of lectures was reduced to three. Honorarium for the three lectures, the amount of the dividends received from the Arris Bequest and Gale Annuity—about £29.

ERASMUS WILSON LECTURES.

With the object of promoting the study of the Pathology together with the Anatomy and Physiology, human and comparative, of the Skin and its Appendages, the late Sir Erasmus Wilson gave to the College the sum of £5000 New Three per cent. Consols, under a Deed of Trust, dated the 8th July 1869, to found and endow a Professorship of Dermatology. The Council appointed Sir Erasmus Wilson to the Professorship, and during the period 1870-78 he delivered six lectures annually, and presented to the Museum a large collection of casts and models used in illustration of his lectures.

In 1879 certain alterations in the terms of the Trust were effected with the approval of the Founder, providing that the income derived from the Fund should be devoted to the promotion of original researches by lectures delivered at the College, the number of such lectures not to exceed three in any one year, and to be given by one or more persons to be called Erasmus Wilson Professors of Pathology.

In 1882 further alterations were thought desirable, and under a new Deed of Trust, dated the 13th April 1882, it is now provided that the income of the Fund shall be appropriated in part towards the payment of the salary of a Pathological Curator of the Museum, and in part for the payment of Lectures on the Pathological contents of the Museum to be delivered by the Pathological Curator or some other person appointed for the purpose. Three lectures are now delivered annually and the lecturer is called Erasmus Wilson Lecturer. Honorarium £10 per lecture.

BRADSHAW LECTURE.

The Bradshaw Lecture was founded in memory of her husband by the late Mrs. Sally Hall Bradshaw, widow of Dr. William Wood Bradshaw, M.A.Oxon., D.C.L., LL.D., a Fellow of the College for many years in practice at Reading. She bequeathed to the College by Will, dated 6th September 1875 and proved 26th August 1880, a sum of £1000 Three per Cent. Consols, the income thereof to be expended upon a lecture on Surgery to be called "The Bradshaw Lecture," and to be delivered annually on the 18th August, the anniversary of Dr. Bradshaw's death.

In 1882 an Order of Administration of the Bequest was obtained from the Charity Commissioners, which provided that the Lecture should be delivered on the 18th day of August, or on such other day as might be expressly substituted in each year for that day by the President. Honorarium of Lecturer, about £24.

THE COUNCIL.

The Council, the governing body of the College, consists of twenty-four Members, three* of whom go out in rotation annually in July, but are eligible for re-election by the Fellows of the College. All proceedings of the Court of Examiners, the Board of Examiners in Anatomy and Physiology, the Dental Board, and the several Committees are reported to the Council for approval and confirmation. The Meetings of the Council are generally held in each month of the year, except in the month of September, and at such other times as the business of the College may require.

* If in any year one of the three retiring Members be President of the College, he does not go out of office until the succeeding year.

THE COURT OF EXAMINERS.

The Court of Examiners consists of ten Members elected by the Council from the Fellows of the College. Each Member of the Court is elected for five years, and at the end of his term of office is eligible for re-election. The Court conducts the Pass Examinations in Surgery and Surgical Anatomy of Candidates for the Diplomas of Fellow and Member.

THE BOARD OF EXAMINERS IN ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY FOR THE FELLOWSHIP.

The Board consists of eight Members elected annually in June by the Council. The Board conducts the Primary Examinations in Anatomy and Physiology for the Diploma of Fellow.

THE EXAMINERS UNDER THE CONJOINT EXAMINING BOARD IN ENGLAND.

The following Examiners are elected annually in June by the Council under the Examining Board in England by the Royal College of Physicians of London and the Royal College of Surgeons of England, viz. :—

FIRST EXAMINATION.—Two Examiners in Elementary Biology.

SECOND EXAMINATION.—Four Examiners in Anatomy and three Examiners in Physiology.

THIRD EXAMINATION.—Four Examiners in Midwifery.

EXAMINATION FOR DIPLOMA IN PUBLIC HEALTH.—Two Examiners.

BOARD OF EXAMINERS IN DENTAL SURGERY.

The Board of Examiners in Dental Surgery is elected by the Council, and consists of eight Members, viz.:—four Members of the Court of Examiners of the College, and four other persons duly registered under “The Dentists’ Act, 1878.” Each Member of the Board is elected for five years, and at the end of his term of office is eligible for re-election. The Board conducts the First and Second Professional Examinations for the Diploma in Dental Surgery.

The Preliminary Science Examination, which Candidates who registered as Dental Students on or after the 1st January 1897 are required to pass, is identical with Parts I. and II. of the First Examination of the Conjoint Examining Board in England, and is conducted by the Examiners appointed under that Board.

RETURNS OF THE RESULTS OF THE SEVERAL EXAMINATIONS.

The following is a statement of the number of Candidates who were admitted to examination for the Fellowship, to the First, Second, and Third Examinations and the Examination in Public Health of the Conjoint Examining Board, and to examination for the Licence in Dental Surgery respectively, with the results of the several Examinations, viz.:—

I. Annual Meeting of Fellows and Members.

This Meeting was held on Thursday, the 16th November, 1905, at 3 o'clock P.M.

The Chair was taken by the President, Mr. John Tweedy. Twenty-two Fellows, including 14 Members of the Council, and 34 Members attended the Meeting.

The President placed before the Meeting the Report of the Council for the period from the 1st August 1904 to the 1st August 1905, and made a brief statement regarding some of the matters which had come under the consideration of the Council during the year.

Copies of the Report had been circulated to 640 Fellows and 3,069 Members.

The following Motion was proposed by Mr. Joseph Smith, M.R.C.S., and seconded by Mr. W. Gibson Bott, M.R.C.S.:—

That, in protest against the repeated neglect by the Council of Resolutions passed in previous years, this Meeting declines to have the Report of the Council placed before it.

After some discussion upon the subject of the Motion, the Previous Question was moved by Surg.-Major Ince, M.R.C.S., and seconded by Mr. J. Vincent Bell, F.R.C.S., but this was lost, 10 voting for and 16 against the same.

Mr. Joseph Smith's Motion was thereupon put, and the votes of the Meeting having been taken, the President declared the Motion to be lost, 15 having voted in favour thereof and 19 against the same.

In the absence of Mr. Benjamin Walker, M.R.C.S., a Motion, of which he had given notice, was not put.

A vote of thanks to the President, moved by Surg.-Major Ince and seconded by Mr. S. A. E. Griffiths, terminated the proceedings.

II. Regulations for the Fellowship.

At the Quarterly Meeting of the Council in October a Report was received from the Court of Examiners recommending the alteration of the clause in the Regulations requiring a Candidate, before admission to the First Examination for the Fellowship, to produce a certificate "Of having been engaged in the acquirement of professional knowledge at a recognized Medical School subsequent to registration as a Medical Student during a period of not less than three Winter Sessions."

The Court pointed out that the eighteen months' dissections required for the Fellowship could be completed in two winter and two summer sessions, but that, while those Candidates who had studied the early subjects of the medical curriculum, viz., Chemistry, Physics, and Biology, at a Medical School, could count such study as part of the course required for the Fellowship, those who had studied these subjects at a non-Medical School could not do so, but were obliged to complete another winter session at the Medical School.

This Report of the Court of Examiners was referred to a Committee of the Council for consideration, and, at the Meeting of the Council in November, the Committee reported in favour of the recommendation of the Court of Examiners. The Report was, however, referred back to the Committee for further consideration, and they were also instructed to consider the desirability of altering Clause 3, Section XX. of the Bye-Laws relating to admission to the Fellowship by examination.

The matter was finally settled in December, when the Council adopted a Report from the Committee recommending that the clause in the Regulations referred to by the Court of Examiners should be altered to the following, viz.: "Of having been engaged in the acquirement of professional knowledge during not less than three Winter Sessions after Registration as a Medical Student, or after passing a recognized Preliminary Examination in General Education."

The Committee pointed out that the proposed alteration of the Regulations did not reduce or alter in any way the course of study then required for the Fellowship. The main object was to make the conditions of admission to the First Examination fair for all classes of Candidates. Under the conditions then in force two Candidates might have pursued the same course of study, and yet one might be admissible and the other not. Thus a Candidate who had studied Chemistry, Physics, and Biology at a Medical School for 6 months and had dissected at a Medical School for 18 months, was admissible to the Examination; but a Candidate who had studied Chemistry, Physics, and Biology elsewhere than at a Medical School for 6 months and had dissected at a Medical School for 18 months, was not admissible to the Examination, although the study of Chemistry, Physics, and Biology at non-Medical Schools was recognized and approved by the College. It was to remove such inequality of treatment that the alteration of the Regulations was designed.

With regard to the question of altering the Bye-Law, the Committee reported as follows, viz.:—

In pursuance of the Resolution of the Council of November 9th the Committee have taken into consideration the question as to whether or not it is desirable to make any alteration in Clause 3, Section XX. of the Bye-Laws, relating to admission to the Examinations for the Fellowship, and in this connection have more particularly directed their attention to the requirements regarding the study of Anatomy and the contention that these requirements are insufficient.

Under the present Regulations a Candidate, who is not a Member of the College, is required, before admission to the First Examination for the Fellowship, to produce a certificate "of having dissected at a recognized Medical School or Schools for a period of not less than eighteen months during the ordinary Sessions or Terms," i. e., he is required to dissect for an additional period of six months beyond what is required for the Membership. This Regulation has been in force since 1893.

Under the present Regulations a Member of the College is admissible to the First Examination for the Fellowship at any time after receiving his Diploma as a Member, i. e., after a course of not less than twelve months' dissections at a recognized Medical School. This Regulation has been in force since 1880.

The Regulations now recommended by the Committee do not alter these requirements.

The Committee, having considered the question of altering the Bye-Laws, arrived at the following conclusion, viz. :—

That it is inadvisable to alter Bye-Law Section XX. Clause 3, so as to make it necessary for a candidate for the First Examination for the Fellowship to dissect for three Winter Sessions.

III. Regulations for Licence in Dental Surgery.

Upon the recommendation of the Board of Examiners in Dental Surgery, it has been determined to reduce the period of instruction in Mechanical Dentistry, required by Clause 2, Section I. of the Regulations for the Licence in Dental Surgery, from three to two years.

The Council have also adopted a further recommendation from the Board that a Candidate should be admitted to the First Professional Examination, so soon as he can produce the required certificates, without necessarily completing six months' attendance at a Dental School and Hospital.

IV. The Length of the Medical Curriculum.

At a Meeting of the Council in May 1905 a proposal was brought forward (1) to treat Chemistry, Physics, and Biology as subjects of preliminary education, and to require that an examination in them should be passed before the recognition of the commencement of Medical Studies; and (2) to adopt a five years' curriculum of professional study from the date of passing the Preliminary Science Examination.

This proposal was referred to the Committee of Management of the two Colleges for consideration, and, after going very thoroughly into the matter, the Committee, in January 1906, reported against the proposed alteration.

Their Report, which is appended hereto, is of special interest from the information it contains regarding the time taken by the Medical Student in qualifying himself for the practice of his profession.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF MANAGEMENT.

The Committee of Management have examined the changes in the curriculum and regulations for the Examinations of the Conjoint Board which have been made in recent years as well as some of the discussions which have taken place on the subjects involved, and have also considered the information to be obtained from the statistics of the examinations.

The Committee are unanimously of opinion :

- I. That it is undesirable to treat Chemistry, Physics, and Biology as subjects of Preliminary Education.
- II. That it is undesirable to require an examination in Chemistry, Physics, and Biology to be passed before the recognition of the commencement of Medical studies.
- III. That it is therefore undesirable that the Royal Colleges should approach the Universities and other Examining Bodies with a view to adopting a five years' curriculum of professional study from the date of passing the Preliminary Science Examination.

With regard to the first Proposition :

- I. THAT IT IS UNDESIRABLE TO TREAT CHEMISTRY, PHYSICS, AND BIOLOGY AS SUBJECTS OF PRELIMINARY EDUCATION, the Committee are of opinion that the separation of the early studies from the purely medical curriculum has been sufficiently promoted by the Royal Colleges, in their recognition of instruction in Preliminary Science in non-Medical Schools having competent teachers and adequate equipment. More time is required to see how the existing curriculum, with the modifications introduced in June 1904, will work: and in their judgment it would be unwise to make further changes at the present time.

In support of this position they desire to draw attention to the following clauses of the existing Regulations:—

- (III.) Chemistry, Physics, and Biology must be studied at a Medical School or other Institution recognized by the Examining Board in England.

The certificates must state that the Candidate has attended not less than 180 hours' instruction and laboratory work in Chemistry; 120 hours' instruction and laboratory work in Physics; and 120 hours' instruction and laboratory work in Biology. These courses need not be completed within one year, nor need they run concurrently, and they may be commenced or attended before the Candidate passes the required Preliminary Examination in General Education.

- (IV.) Six months' instruction at a recognized Institution other than a Medical School will be counted as part of the Curriculum of Professional Study if such attendance is subsequent to the date of passing the required Preliminary Examination in General Education.

(VII.) A Candidate may present himself for the First Professional Examination immediately after passing the Preliminary Examination in General Education, provided he is able to produce the Certificates required by paragraph II.

(Paragraph II. requires that before admission to the First Professional Examination a Candidate must produce evidence of having received instruction in Chemistry, Physics, and Biology.)

Thus a student who has passed the first professional examination before entrance at a Medical School, but who cannot claim that six months of his work at a recognized Institution were subsequent to the Preliminary examination in General Education (Reg. IV.), will under the existing Regulations (which came into force June 1, 1904) have five clear years for his subsequent studies in Anatomy, Physiology, Medicine, Surgery, and Midwifery.

If his work at a recognized Institution comes under Regulation IV., he then will have four and a half years for those studies.

Of 95 institutions (other than Medical Schools and Universities) recognized by the Royal Colleges as places of study in Science, 35 have been recognized for Biology, Chemistry, and Physics, and the remaining 60 for Chemistry and Physics only.

When the number of institutions which can be recognized becomes sufficiently large, most students will probably complete the preliminary science education before entering at a Medical School. To encourage this has been the endeavour of the Royal Colleges for several years. The Royal Colleges have thus done much for the improvement of scientific teaching in Public Schools and other Institutions, and have at the same time provided for the increase of the part of the five years to be spent in Anatomy, Physiology, Medicine, Surgery, and Midwifery.

The Royal Colleges have further influenced the proportion of time to be given to the Professional studies by their Regulation that Anatomy and Physiology shall not be studied till after the Examination in Chemistry, Physics, and Biology is passed.

The opportunity of adding to the time spent by each student in Anatomy, Physiology, Medicine, Surgery, and Midwifery would be largely increased by omitting Biology from the curriculum; but the Committee have not thought it expedient to make any Recommendation on this subject as the Royal Colleges in 1903, after full discussion, decided to retain Biology in the curriculum.

With regard to the second proposition :

II. THAT IT IS UNDESIRABLE TO REQUIRE AN EXAMINATION IN CHEMISTRY, PHYSICS, AND BIOLOGY TO BE PASSED BEFORE THE RECOGNITION OF THE COMMENCEMENT OF MEDICAL STUDIES,

the Committee would point out that whatever the subjects of Preliminary Science study, it is in the highest degree important that the Royal Colleges should retain those subjects in their curriculum. The Royal Colleges can estimate better than any non-professional authority the amount of knowledge of such subjects which ought to be required from Medical students.

The Committee have already dealt very fully with this subject in a Memorandum attached to their report dated 19th March, 1900. In that report a concise history was given of the changes in the Regulations of the Royal Colleges, adopted (a) with a view to the encouragement of the Teaching of Science in Secondary Schools, (b) with the object of encouraging Students to pass the Examination in Chemistry, Physics, and Biology as early as possible in order to give more time to the strictly professional subjects. It was shown (1) that a Regulation allowing students to study these subjects before passing the Preliminary Examination had failed because the time so spent did not count as part of the 5 years' curriculum; (2) that "the introduction of the five years' curriculum, while it imposed "another year of instruction, with the view especially of giving more "time for the later and more practical parts of Professional Education, "imposed also new burdens by extending the range of the previous "subjects and adding fresh ones, increasing the number of Exami- "nations and raising the standard of attainment, thus going far to "neutralize the avowed object of the additional year;" (3) that "there was a real danger that, for all but the ablest men, the course "would drift into a six years' one from Registration, as the four "years' one had drifted into a five, and the burden fall too heavily "on the parents"; (4) that "one of the means least open to "objection for relieving this tension would be to encourage the "study of Physics and Chemistry, with or without Elementary "Biology, during the later years of school life—say from the age "of 16 to 17 or 18 and before entering at a Medical School"; and (5) that "the time then seemed approaching when Chemistry, "Physics, and Biology should be treated as matters of preliminary "education, following grammar, literature, and mathematics; and "that an Examination should be passed in them before the com- "mencement of Medical Studies."

The Committee would remark that the second statement holds good; that the prediction (3) has been verified as shown by statistics to be mentioned presently; that the Royal Colleges have promoted the scheme outlined in (4); and that with regard to the statement (5), while still in agreement with it, this Report shows that the time has not yet arrived for the adoption of such a course.

In order to afford the Royal Colleges full information on the subject, tables have been prepared showing the average period of professional study now spent by Students under Regulations which nominally require a five years' curriculum only.

The Regulations in force up to the 1st June, 1904, required that there should be an interval of nine months (a Winter and a Summer Session) between the First and Second Examinations, and an interval of two years (two Winter and two Summer Sessions) between the Second and the Final Examinations, and an interval of four years (Four Winter and four Summer Sessions) between the First and the Final Examinations.

Under these Regulations it was thought that the Student of average ability who commenced his professional study on the 1st October should complete his First Examination in the following July, and his Second Examination in the July of his second year. He would then have three years in which to complete the work for the Final Examination.

It is found, however, that a large number of students take from one full year to one year and a half to complete the First Examination, so that it is passed in the January or April of the second year. In consequence, the Second Examination is postponed to January or April of the third year, thus leaving little over two years for the work of the Final Examination. If again, candidates fail at the Second Examination, the Final Examination is for this reason postponed.

The following table shows the average percentage of rejections in the several subjects during the last five years (omitting Practical Pharmacy, which may be taken at any time of the curriculum), viz. :—

First Examination.	Average Percentage of Rejections.
Chemistry and Physics .....	44
Elementary Biology .....	34
 Second Examination.
Anatomy and Physiology .....	38
 Final Examination.
Medicine .....	39
Surgery .....	44
Midwifery .....	32

Analysis of the curriculum, as followed by 400 Students who obtained their Diplomas in the last two years, of whom 271 were Conjoint Students throughout, and 129 were University Students, furnishes the following tables :—

1. Percentage table showing the duration of the curriculum under the Five Years' Regulations, previous to the 1st June, 1904.

	5 Yrs.	5½ Yrs.	5¾ Yrs.	5¾ Yrs.	6 Yrs.	6½ Yrs.	7 Yrs.	Over 7 Yrs.
Conj' Students ...	9.23	5.54	12.18	4.06	9.96	10.33	12.18	36.54
Univ. Students ...	6.98	3.10	6.98	6.20	19.38	13.95	13.18	30.23
	8.5	4.75	10.5	4.75	13	11.5	12.5	34.5

Thus 28.5 per cent. qualify in less than six years.

71.5 per cent. take six years or more to qualify.

37 per cent. take from six to seven years to qualify.

2. Percentage table showing the interval between the date of passing in Anatomy and Physiology and admission to Examination in Medicine or Surgery.

	2 Yrs.	2½ Yrs.	2¾ Yrs.	2¾ Yrs.	3 Yrs.	3½ Yrs.	4 Yrs.	Over 4 Yrs.
Conj' Students...	8.86	11.81	17.34	14.02	24.72	14.39	4.43	4.43
Univ. Students...	21.71	13.18	19.38	10.08	17.05	10.08	3.88	4.65
	13	12.25	18	12.75	22.25	13	4.25	4.5

Thus 56 per cent. are admitted to the Examination in Medicine and Surgery in less than three years.

44 per cent. wait three years or more.

3. Percentage table showing the interval between the date of passing in Anatomy and Physiology and completion of Final Examination.

	2 Yrs.	2¼ Yrs.	2½ Yrs.	2¾ Yrs.	3 Yrs.	3½ Yrs.	4 Yrs.	Over 4 Yrs.

Thus 20 per cent. complete the Final Examination in less than three years.

80 per cent. take three years or more to complete.

Table No. 1 shows that only 28.5 per cent. of Students obtain their Diplomas in less than six years, whilst 71.5 per cent. take six years and upwards to qualify. Of these, 37 per cent. representing probably the average students (columns 5, 6, and 7) take from six to seven years.

Table No. 2 shows that, although the Regulations require an interval of not more than two years between the Second and the Final Examinations, only 13 per cent. present themselves so early, whilst 65·25 per cent. take from two and a quarter to three years to enter (columns 2, 3, 4, and 5).

Comparison of Tables Nos. 2 and 3 shows that whilst 56 per cent. enter for the Final Examination in less than three years from the date of passing the Second Examination, not more than 20 per cent. complete the Examination and obtain their Diplomas in that period.

The significance of Table No. 3 must be emphasized; for it is an important fact, in considering the working of the present curriculum, that only 20 per cent. of students complete the Final Examination in under three years from the Second Examination, whilst no less than 80 per cent. require three years and over to complete the Examination and obtain the Diplomas.

Again, the Table No. 4 is evidence of the period of study taken by students for the Second and Final Examinations alone, to which must be added, under the new Regulations which came into force on the 1st June 1904, at least another year or eighteen months.

It should be stated that, although these Tables relate only to the Examinations of the Conjoint Board, they include a considerable number of candidates who claim exemption from the First and Second Examinations of the Board in virtue of the Examinations passed at their Universities for Degrees in Medicine and Surgery.

The Tables are calculated on 271 Conjoint Candidates and 129 University Students respectively; but the average percentage is taken on the total of 400 candidates.

These Tables establish the fact that a very considerable proportion of the Students fail in one or more of the Examinations, and that whatever the length of the period of study laid down as a minimum, that period will be exceeded by average Students, and very much exceeded by those who are below the average. The effect of the proposal contained in the Reference to the Committee would be to make the minimum time for the best students  $5\frac{1}{2}$  to  $5\frac{3}{4}$  years; while average students might be expected to spend  $6\frac{1}{2}$ , 7, or  $7\frac{1}{2}$  years.

When altering the Regulations in the year 1904, the Royal Colleges endeavoured to obtain as much time as possible for the study of Anatomy, Physiology, Medicine, Surgery, and Midwifery; and if the Regulations they then adopted had come into full operation, the students would be obliged to pass the First Examination before commencing Anatomy and Physiology, and would then have four years and a half for the rest of the curriculum, leaving one year and a half for Anatomy and Physiology, and three for Clinical work. It would be unwise, in the opinion of the Committee, to give up the scheme to which the Royal Colleges have devoted much careful consideration, and which has encouraged and improved the teaching of Science in Secondary Schools.

The Committee, recognizing that the minimum period is taken advantage of only by a few of the best students, regard the present curriculum as sufficiently long; and are of opinion that it is not desirable to alter the conditions of the curriculum as adopted in the Regulations dated the 1st June, 1904.

V. Position of the College as a Qualifying Body.

There can be little doubt that the lengthening of the Medical Curriculum has tended to reduce the number of students entering upon the study of the profession, but that the position of the College as a Qualifying Body is well maintained may be seen from the following extract from a Report of the Conjoint Finance Committee, viz. :—

“As the Committee have pointed out in previous reports, the gradual decrease in the number of students entering the profession of late years must necessarily cause a falling off in the number of candidates for Examination; but it is satisfactory to find that in spite of the numerous Degrees and Diplomas in the country, the Conjoint Examining Board continues to attract each year to the Final Examination much the same proportion of the students who commenced professional study five years previously. This is shown in the following return :—

VI. Diplomas in Tropical Medicine.

The following Report has been received from the Visitors appointed by the two Colleges to inquire into and report on the arrangements made by other Institutions for the study of Tropical Medicine and examination therein, viz. :—

REPORT of the VISITORS appointed by the ROYAL COLLEGES OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS to report upon the Course of Study and upon Examination in Tropical Medicine.

In July 1904, a meeting of delegates from the two Royal Colleges was held to consider a letter from the Colonial Secretary in reference to Diplomas in Tropical Medicine. The Delegates in their report, dated July 18th, 1904, made the following recommendations :—

1. That with the permission of the Authorities of the School of Tropical Medicine, Visitors be appointed by the Royal Colleges of Physicians and of Surgeons to attend the examinations of that School and to report upon the scope of the course of study and of examination, and that a request be addressed to the Naval, Military, and Colonial Authorities to allow Visitors appointed by the two Royal Colleges to attend their examinations in Tropical Medicine for a similar purpose.

2. That at the end of the year a report be addressed by these Visitors to the Royal Colleges on the whole subject of Tropical Medicine.

I.

In accordance with the terms of the reference we have inspected the Schools of Tropical Medicine in London and Liverpool, and have inquired into and in parts witnessed the examinations held in connexion with them, as well as the examinations of the Navy and Army Medical Departments in Tropical Medicine. We have also considered the question of the diplomas, certificates, and degrees now offered in this subject, and the number of British practitioners in tropical and subtropical countries.

The School of Tropical Medicine in London is a busy and flourishing undertaking. It accommodates about 40 students, mostly from the Colonial and Foreign Offices, but also some Missionaries and others not connected with the two State departments. Many of them become candidates for the Diploma in Tropical Medicine of the Cambridge University.

The laboratory is long, well lighted, and well fitted, but could not accommodate a larger number of students. The museum promises to be an important feature of the School. There is a good lecture-room which will accommodate from 50 to 70 students, a good post-mortem room, and a well-stocked and growing library.

The clinical instruction is given in the adjoining Hospital. This Hospital contains 50 beds and is officered by a staff of two physicians, two surgeons, one assistant-surgeon, one ophthalmic surgeon, and one dental surgeon. Cases are drafted from it to the Seamen's Hospital at Greenwich, and from the latter to the former as occasion may require. There was a considerable variety of tropical cases on the day of our visit in the medical wards, including malaria, leprosy, dysentery, sprue, filariasis, beri-beri, hepatic abscess, and bilharzia. But those in the surgical wards were such as could be seen in any general hospital.

The School appeared to us to provide every facility for the required study. The day's work occupies from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M.; of which the morning hours are spent in the laboratories under the able instruction of the medical superintendent and tutor, which includes the examination of the normal blood, and the blood in malaria and other tropical diseases, the study of filariasis, of mosquitoes, tsetse flies, bacteriology, helminthology and parasitology. The afternoons are devoted to the attendance of systematic lectures on medicine, surgery, hygiene, skin diseases, ophthalmology, &c., and to clinical demonstrations in the wards.

The instruction is arranged in three terms of 10 weeks each, and examinations are held at the end of each term. These examinations are of the nature of class examinations; that is, they test the students' knowledge of the instruction given during the term. They are practical and viva voce and are of a very searching character, but there is no clinical examination. They are conducted by the teachers themselves without any assessors or external examiners. Certificates are given: 50 per cent. of marks qualifying for a pass, 75 per cent. for special distinction. Special certificates are required by the Colonial Office. We are told that the students complain because they can obtain nothing in the shape of a Diploma.

In the prospectus of the School, published in November 1904, a list is given of those who have been through the Course of Tropical Medicine since October 1st, 1899, a period of 5 years. There are 417 names (including 19 women); and the destination of 319, or more than three-quarters, to India, Africa, and other tropical parts is indicated.

The School of Tropical Medicine at Liverpool does not attempt to deal with such a large number of students. Eighteen is the maximum, and that number is seldom reached.

The pathological work and teaching are conducted in great part in the Thompson-Yates laboratory.

The laboratories and museum are more elaborate and better fitted than those of the Tropical School in London. On the day of our visit examinations were in progress, so that we could not form an estimate of the way in which the teaching is conducted, but the teachers are all men of eminence and wide experience.

In connection with the laboratories are 12 to 15 private laboratories for more advanced students, who are undertaking original researches.

The collection of specimens illustrating tropical diseases and of the lower animals parasitic upon man and beast in tropical countries, and of those which transmit these diseases from animals to man, is already extensive and is rapidly growing. It is arranged in shelves round the laboratory.

The School has access to a large lecture-room used in common with other departments in the Thompson-Yates laboratories. It would accommodate 70 students for a practical course, but would seat perhaps 200.

There are an excellent library and a good post-mortem room.

In connexion with the School is a farm at Runcorn, where several hundreds of animals are kept (ranging from horses to rats) for veterinary practice and experimental pathology.

The clinical instruction is given at the Southern Hospital. Only one ward of 12 male beds is reserved for the purpose, which is placed for periods of 4 months under the charge of one of the three physicians to the hospital. It is obvious that no great variety of cases can thus be secured; but it is anticipated that this deficit may be remedied.

We were told, however, that the supply of cases in Liverpool is not large, and that they come almost altogether from the West Coast of Africa. There appears to be a difficulty in admitting men of colour into the same wards as white men, and this limits the supply of cases. There are no surgical beds reserved for tropical cases. Female patients are admitted to the general wards.

The session at Liverpool is divided into three terms of 10 weeks each. At the end of each term examinations are held which have one advantage over those of the Tropical School in London inasmuch as they are clinical as well as practical and viva voce, and there are external examiners. Those who pass obtain a Diploma. Owing to a misunderstanding we were unable to witness any part of this examination. The papers, however, suggest that it might be of a more searching character.

We have not had the opportunity of seeing the instruction given by the Naval and Military authorities. But we gather that it is on the same lines.

For the same reason it does not seem necessary to dwell upon the examinations of the Navy or the Royal Army Medical Corps. We have had the opportunity of seeing many of the early and advanced papers and of witnessing part of the practical examination of the men who had obtained commissions and had just completed their term of instruction in the pathology of tropical diseases in London. Speaking generally, it may be said that the examinations cover the same ground as that we have referred to in more detail above, and that the students have evidently made the most of the short opportunity afforded them, as indeed might be anticipated from the fact that the examinations are competitive.

Since our appointment the University of London has adopted the principle of making Tropical Medicine a separate branch in which the M.D. degree can be taken. The subject of Tropical Medicine is thus placed in the same position as Gynæcology, Pathology, and Mental diseases, each of which forms a separate branch, a complete examination in the special subject being combined with a minimum examination in General Medicine.

The regulations are not yet issued, but it is probable that they will entail at least one year's study in a school of Tropical Medicine or two years of hospital, official or private practice in tropical or subtropical regions.

In the University of Edinburgh classes are given in two subjects, Pathological Bacteriology and Diseases of Tropical Climates. The former is a practical class. It is held three days a week for two hours, winter and summer; the latter consists of one course of 25 lectures. A separate course is held for women. There is no clinical instruction.

Each course is open to

1. Qualified Medical Practitioners.
2. Students who have completed the curriculum for the final examination in Medicine of any of the qualifying authorities.
3. Others specially interested in the subject.

Class certificates are issued to each member who has performed the work of the class of Tropical Medicine in a satisfactory manner; and University Certificates by the Dean of the Faculty of Medicine to those who have in addition attended classes in Bacteriology. These certificates are based on evidence received from the Lecturers on Pathological Anatomy and Tropical Diseases.

The University of Cambridge holds an examination once a year or more frequently, to which any person on the Medical Register is admissible, provided—

1. That a period of not less than 12 months has elapsed between his attainment of a registrable qualification and his admission to the examination.
2. That he produce evidence satisfactory to the Syndicate that he has diligently studied Pathology (including Parasitology and Bacteriology) in relation to tropical diseases, Clinical Medicine and Surgery at a Hospital for tropical diseases, and Hygiene and methods of Sanitation applicable to tropical climates.

It is partly in writing, partly oral, and partly practical and clinical. The clinical examination is conducted at a hospital for tropical diseases at which cases are submitted for diagnosis and comment.

Every candidate who passes obtains a Diploma.

We are not aware of any other systematic teaching of Tropical Medicine or of any public examinations on the subject in the British Islands.

It is not easy to estimate the numbers of British practitioners in tropical and subtropical countries; but, taking the numbers from the medical directory and excluding those in Australia, New Zealand, and Cape Colony, and those who are in the services and the mercantile marine, but including the rather numerous medical women in India, it would appear to be between 1400 and 1500. This number is, however, probably rather below than above the mark.

II.

Instruction in Tropical Medicine.

The subject may be considered under the two heads of (1) Pathology, including Bacteriology and Parasitology, and (2) Clinical Medicine.

With regard to the former we are of opinion that the opportunities for instruction both at Liverpool University and in the London School of Tropical Medicine are good and sufficient. The laboratories are good, the material is abundant, and the arrangements for class-teaching, lectures, and practical work are on the most advanced lines.

With regard to Clinical Medicine, we are of opinion that the arrangements in the London School of Tropical Medicine are good, but that those of the Liverpool University might be much improved; the chief defects being that the number of beds is limited, that the variety of diseases admitted is small, and that the ward for tropical diseases is constantly changing hands.

The Cambridge University has no School of Tropical Medicine; and we have not reported on the teaching arrangements of the Navy and Army Medical Departments for reasons already stated.

Diplomas and Degrees.

Whereas the Universities of Cambridge and of Liverpool each grant a diploma in Tropical Medicine, and the University of London allows its M.D. degree to be taken in this subject, the London School of Tropical Medicine can only give a certificate.

The diploma of the Liverpool University and the certificate of the London School of Tropical Medicine as well as the Diploma of the University of Cambridge may be awarded after a course of study limited to an academical three months, which may be actually only ten weeks. Whatever may be the case now, it seems almost certain that in the course of time, both with increasing knowledge and modified views as to the limits of the subject, it will be impossible to teach in that short period all that should be known. And even now it appears to be doubtful if such a powerful instrument as a diploma in Tropical Medicine should be awarded for knowledge attained in a three months' course, especially when much of the time is occupied in re-learning the elements of hæmatology and facts about typhoid fever, which form the subjects of examination in the ordinary diploma for practice in the British Isles. No hard and fast line can indeed be drawn between diseases which are purely tropical in their origin, such as sleeping sickness and yellow fever, and others which occur largely in temperate climates, and the study of which forms an essential part of every medical man's training. It is therefore satisfactory to learn that the University of London will demand a larger amount of preparation than is required for the Diplomas and Certificates now obtainable.

Conclusions.

It must be admitted that the Schools of Tropical Medicine have opportunities of research in a certain number of diseases, which are much greater than those possessed by most general hospitals in the British Isles: and that a knowledge of these diseases is eminently desirable in the case of doctors practising in the tropics: but not by any means equally necessary for medical men practising at home.

It is impossible for the Royal Colleges to ignore the existence of this important branch of knowledge, or the following facts: (1) that it is not at present adequately provided for at the ordinary medical schools, and (2) that it is provided for at Liverpool, the London School of Tropical Medicine, and the Navy and Army Medical Colleges. They may well therefore consider whether, in extension of the functions they already possess of giving diplomas in Medicine, Surgery, Obstetric Medicine, and State Medicine, they should not also give Diplomas or Certificates, which would implicitly or expressly guarantee a knowledge of Tropical Medicine.

This they could do in two ways:—

(a) By requiring every candidate for the L.R.C.P., M.R.C.S. to attend the instruction in a School of Tropical Medicine for a stated period of time: in the same way as attendance at a Fever Hospital and at an Asylum is required.

(b) By instituting a special diploma or certificate in Tropical Medicine.

It does not seem desirable to demand of all medical men, including hundreds who will only practise in Great Britain, a course of study which many will regard as useless, and probably carry out in a perfunctory way. If, however, such a scheme were adopted, certain schools of Tropical Medicine would have to be "recognized"; and it is conceivable that other medical schools besides that of the Liverpool University and the London School of Tropical Medicine might institute departments which would deserve "recognition" for the purposes of the Diploma.

Should the Royal Colleges decide to grant a Diploma, we would suggest that a course of special study longer than three months should be demanded, with alternatives similar to those allowed by the University of London.

The reasons in favour of such a course may be thus stated :—

1. That in the British Empire the subject of Tropical Medicine holds a position of greater importance than is the case in other countries.

2. That by demanding more training than is at present required, it may be hoped that a more thorough study of this subject may be encouraged.

3. That our own alumni would not, as at present, be driven to other Universities if they are desirous of obtaining such a distinction.

4. That the students at the School of Tropical Medicine in London would have the opportunity of obtaining in London what they now have to seek elsewhere.

On the other hand, the reasons against the institution of such a Diploma have been already referred to and are well known. The most important are that the subject is said to be too small to merit such a distinction, and that if one department of Medicine is thought worthy of a special Diploma there may be no end to the list of special departments for which a similar privilege may be claimed.

9th October, 1905.

This Report of the Visitors was referred to a Committee composed of Delegates from the two Colleges, who after considering the same adopted the following resolution, viz. :—

That the Delegates of the Royal College of Physicians of London and of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, while desirous of encouraging the study of Tropical Medicine and of meeting the wishes of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, are nevertheless of opinion that it is not desirable to institute a special Diploma. They recommend, however, that the Royal Colleges should express their willingness to appoint Assessors to the Examinations conducted by the London School of Tropical Medicine, of students who have followed, there or elsewhere, a course of instruction approved by the Royal Colleges; and that to those Candidates who hold the Diplomas of the Royal Colleges and are approved by the Examiners, certificates, endorsed by the aforesaid Assessors, may be granted.

In pursuance of this Resolution it has been referred to the Committee of Management to consult with the Authorities of the London School of Tropical Medicine regarding the arrangements necessary for giving effect to the proposals of the two Colleges, and to report thereon to the two Colleges.

VII. The Midwives Act, 1902.

Mr. J. Ward Cousins, who has been re-appointed a member of the Central Midwives Board by the Council of this College under Section 3 of the Midwives Act 1902, submits the following Report regarding the proceedings of the Board, viz. :—

Riversdale,
Kent Road, Portsmouth,
April 1906.

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN,

I have again the honour to present to you a short report of the work of the Central Midwives Board. During the past year twenty meetings have been held.

The Board have appointed eighteen Examiners for London and sixteen for the Provinces, and up to the present time three Examinations have taken place—the first on the 27th of June 1905, and the others on the 25th of October 1905 and the 6th of February 1906. The following table exhibits the number of the Candidates :—

	London.	Bristol.	Man- chester.	New- castle.	Total.	Passed.	Rejected.
I. ....	223	31	44	9	307	237	70
II. ....	346	48	52	17	463	352	111
III. ....	341	48	73	24	486	367	119

The necessity of requiring evidence of the elementary education of all pupil-Midwives is now engaging the attention of the Board. By one of the existing regulations, any Candidate, who during the Examination shows a want of acquaintance with the ordinary subjects of education, may be rejected on this ground alone. Now this rule has already been found to be very unsatisfactory in practice, unfair to the Candidates, and embarrassing to the Examiners. Surely some proof of general knowledge ought to be required at the commencement of the training, instead of at the time of examination. Some of the women, who have endeavoured to prepare themselves by attending lectures and by diligent study, have at the last moment been found to possess too little elementary education for passing successfully the oral and written examination of the Board. The rule as it now stands clearly requires revision, and is contrary to the well-recognised principle, which regulates all examinations, that a standard of general education should be required before a candidate can be admitted to any kind of special professional training.

The Board has now recognised 63 Training Schools, and the number of Teachers appointed amounts to 128.

Up to the first of April 1906 twenty-three thousand one hundred and sixty-six women have been admitted to the Midwives Roll; of this number twenty-two thousand two hundred and ten were certified under the provision for existing Midwives in bona fide practice prior to the first of April 1905, and nine hundred and fifty-six have passed the examination of the Central Midwives Board.

The serious attention of the Board has been engaged in the investigation of alleged misconduct and neglect brought against Midwives by Medical men and the Local Supervising Authorities. The following table indicates the character of these charges:—

Drunkenness .....	5
Neglecting to send for medical aid as required by the Rules .....	4
Not using antiseptics, and failing to carry out thorough disinfection .....	9
Signing a false certificate .....	1
Convicted of legal offences .....	2
Total .....	21

These judicial proceedings of the Board have resulted in the removal of fourteen Midwives from the Roll, and seven others have been severely censured.

The County Councils and the County Borough Councils of England and Wales are only slowly carrying out the provisions of the Midwives Act of 1902. During the last few weeks the Board has received information respecting the local administration of the Act from almost every area, and an analysis of these returns indicates that thirty-three of the County Councils have not yet appointed a Medical Executive Officer. The Councils of twenty-three Counties have now appointed Inspectors of Midwives, and in eight English and five Welsh counties the Act is stated to be wholly administered by the Local Supervising Authority without the assistance of any Medical Officer or Inspector. In a few Counties the duties of Inspector are performed by the County or District Medical Officer.

Forty-two of the County Borough Councils have not yet decided to appoint an Inspector of Midwives. In twenty-eight County Boroughs the Medical Officer of Health or a female Inspector has been selected to discharge these important duties. At Manchester a qualified female practitioner is the local Inspector, and at Liverpool the ex-Matron of the Lying-in Hospital has been appointed to the office.

During the past year the Local Supervising Authorities have increased in number from one hundred and thirty to three hundred and sixty-nine, but many of the districts are small both in area and population.

In conclusion, I regret to state that Liverpool and Cardiff are the only centres where the Councils have made any arrangement for the payment of Medical men summoned to assist Midwives in cases of difficulty and danger. By the Act the profession is practically responsible for the safety of the poor parturient women of the country, and yet it contains no provision to secure payment for professional services.

I am,

Mr. President and Gentlemen,

Yours very faithfully,

JOHN WARD COUSINS.

In pursuance of the views expressed in his Report, Mr. Ward Cousins, at the Quarterly Meeting of the Council in July, moved :

That, in the opinion of the Council of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, it is essential for the efficient working of the Midwives Act that adequate provision be made to secure just remuneration for professional services rendered by medical men when called into attendance by midwives practising under the Act.

This Resolution was carried and communicated by the President to the Lord President of the Privy Council, from whom the following reply has been received, viz. :—

Privy Council Office,
London, S.W.
23rd July, 1906.

SIR,

Referring to your letter of the 16th instant, embodying a Resolution adopted by the Council of the Royal College of Surgeons on the 12th instant in regard to the question of remuneration for professional services rendered by medical men when called into attendance by midwives practising under The Midwives Act 1902, I am directed by the Lord President of the Council to state that the subject will be carefully considered in connexion with any amendment of the Act which it may be possible to introduce, and His Lordship desires me to add that he would be happy to see you if and when such an amendment is under consideration.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

A. W. FITZ ROY.

THE PRESIDENT,
Royal College of Surgeons of England,
Lincoln's Inn Fields. W.C.

VIII. Question of admitting Women as Fellows and Members.

This question was raised at a Meeting of the Council in April, when the following Resolution proposed by Professor Howard Marsh and seconded by Mr. Pearce Gould was carried, viz. :—

That the time has come for reconsidering the question of the admission of women to the Examinations of the Conjoint Board, and that a Committee be appointed to consider and report to the Council thereon.

The Committee, appointed in pursuance of this Resolution, submitted the following Report at a subsequent Meeting of the Council, viz. :—

“As requested by the Council on the 5th April, 1906, the Committee have taken into consideration the question of admitting Women to the Examinations of the College.

“The Committee would remind the Council that, at a Meeting of the Council on the 14th November, 1895, the following Resolution was adopted, viz. :—

“That the Council of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, although in favour of granting the Petition of the Officers and Teachers of the London School of Medicine for Women, do not see their way to admit Women to the Conjoint Examinations, in face of the vote of the Meeting of Fellows and Members of this College and the expressed opinion of the Royal College of Physicians.”

“The Committee are of opinion that the time has come for again affording the Fellows and Members an opportunity of expressing an opinion in the matter, and they recommend that the Fellows and Members be consulted as to the desirability of approaching the Royal College of Physicians in reference to the question of the admission of Women to the Examinations of the Conjoint Board.”

This Report was considered by the Council at their Meeting in June, and the question was again discussed at a Meeting on July 26th. The question, however, as to when and in what form the matter should be submitted to the Fellows and Members has been postponed, and in the meantime it has been determined to take the opinion of Counsel whether the rights, privileges, exemptions, and immunities attaching to Fellows and Members of the College would apply in the case of women admitted to the examinations of the College, who might become Members or Fellows thereof.

IX. Certificates of the Institute of Hygiene.

In March 1906 a letter was received from the Royal Sanitary Institute, calling attention to an application of the Institute of Hygiene to the Board of Trade for a License to, among other things, hold examinations and grant certificates of competency in hygienic knowledge, and enquiring whether the College of Surgeons proposed taking any action in reference thereto, as on the occasion of a similar application by the Royal Sanitary Institute.

Upon receipt of this letter inquiries were made, and it was ascertained through the Board of Trade that a Clause, similar to that introduced at the instigation of this College and the Royal College of Physicians into the Memorandum of Association of the Royal Sanitary Institute, had been inserted in the Memorandum of Association of the Institute of Hygiene.

The following is the text of the Clause, viz. :—

- (c) To promote the advancement of Hygiene and especially Personal and Domestic Hygiene in all or any of its branches, and the diffusion of knowledge relating thereto, either in all or any of the ways hereinafter specified or in any other way.
- (1) The holding of Examinations and granting of Certificates of competency in Hygienic knowledge to any persons desiring to be awarded such Certificates, and the prescribing of the mode and time of holding such Examinations. Provided that no Certificate or Diploma shall be granted by the Institute as a qualification to discharge the duties of a Medical Officer of Health or other Medical Office, and that every Certificate granted shall bear on the face of it a statement that such Certificate is not a qualification registrable under the Medical Act, 1886, and that it is not granted under any authority by statute or charter.

X. The Poisons and Pharmacy Bill.

At the Meeting of the Council in June a letter was read from the President of the Pharmaceutical Society, calling attention to the amendment, recently carried in the House of Lords, on the Poisons and Pharmacy Bill to the effect that a company or body corporate composed of unqualified persons may use the title of "Chemist," provided they have in their employ a person who is qualified under the Pharmacy Act; suggesting that this decision, if allowed to become law, might have far-reaching results not only to Chemists but also to Surgeons, Dentists, and other individuals, who are required by law to possess a personal qualification; and expressing the hope that the Council of the College might see fit to exert their influence in protesting against the establishment of such a dangerous precedent, and take such steps as they might deem necessary to impress upon the Government the danger to the Public and the great injustice to qualified persons involved in such proposed legislation.

The points raised in this letter from the Pharmaceutical Society were considered by the Council, and at their request the President subsequently addressed the following letter in reference thereto to the Lord President of the Privy Council, viz. :—

26th June, 1906.

SIR,

At the last Meeting of the Council of this College a letter was received from the President of the Pharmaceutical Society calling attention to the Poisons and Pharmacy Bill, and to an amendment thereon, recently carried in the House of Lords, to the effect that a company or body corporate composed of unqualified persons may use the title of "Chemist" provided they have in their employ a person who is qualified under the Pharmacy Acts.

After a careful consideration of the letter, the Council requested me to take steps to make known to the Lord President of the Privy Council the strong view which they entertain as to the inexpediency and injustice of allowing companies or corporate bodies to assume professional titles which, when used by individuals, imply training and examination.

The Council regard the provision in the Poisons and Pharmacy Bill as likely to expose the public to considerable risk, and consider that, if the principle involved were to receive the approval of Parliament, a precedent would be set which might seriously affect the status of Surgeons and others who, in the interests of the public, are required by law to possess a personal qualification.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

ALMERIC FITZ ROY, Esq., C.V.O.,
Clerk of the Privy Council.

JOHN TWEEDY,
President.

To this letter the following reply was received, viz. :—

Privy Council Office,
London, S.W.,
28th June, 1906.

SIR,

Referring to your letter of the 26th instant in regard to the "Company" clause in the Poisons and Pharmacy Bill now before Parliament, I am directed by the Lord President of the Council to state that whereas it is alleged by the Pharmaceutical Society that the professional qualification of the Chemist and Druggist is a personal and inalienable one, just as are the qualifications of Physicians, Surgeons, and Dentists, yet in recognition of the trade aspects of the situation, Executors and Trustees of a deceased Chemist are, by Section 16 of the Pharmacy Act, 1868, permitted to carry on the business indefinitely, and do, as it is believed, in practice continue to use the professional designation—a state of things which has no parallel in the law as it affects medical or dental practitioners.

I am also to point out that in many cases—among them some of the most distinguished firms in the metropolis—the title implying a "personal and inalienable qualification" is used in connection with a name which is not that of the person who carries on the business at all, but has been retained for purely trade purposes by virtue of its representing a good-will which is deemed too valuable to lose—it is associated in fact with a distinctly trade interest from which professional status altogether disappears.

The Lord President cannot suppose that the Council of the College of Surgeons has been apprised of these circumstances, or it would hardly be maintained that the mere confirmation of the right which Companies have been declared by law to possess constitutes a precedent which is applicable or likely to prove detrimental to the status of duly recognized professional bodies.

The decision of the House of Lords was not in effect to permit Companies to use a professional designation, but rather to affirm that "chemist" and "druggist" are properly trade descriptions, while "pharmaceutical chemist," "pharmacist," etc., maintain their quasi-professional character.

It will also be observed that under the Bill it is proposed to make Companies answerable for breaches of the law which can now only be brought home to the person in charge—a distinct step in advance.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

JOHN TWEEDY, Esq., F.R.C.S.,

A. W. FITZ ROY.

President of the Royal College of Surgeons of England,
Lincoln's Inn Fields, W.C.

A copy of this letter from the Privy Council was forwarded to the President of the Pharmaceutical Society, and his comments thereon are contained in the following letter, viz.:—

PHARMACEUTICAL SOCIETY OF GREAT BRITAIN.

17 Bloomsbury Square, London, W.C.

July 17th, 1906.

SIR,

In reply to yours of July 13th, enclosing copy of letter from Privy Council dated June 28th, I am requested by the President to say that the main point is whether limited companies of unqualified persons should be allowed to use the designation of "Chemist," which title was by Act of Parliament (Pharmacy Act 1868) expressly reserved to the individual who passed the prescribed examination.

The Pharmacy Act does provide for "trustees" to continue the business of a deceased Chemist, but that only affects a few cases and was done no doubt to obviate a serious loss of an enforced sale at once. The President desires me to say that this Society does not think the title "Chemist" may be used in such cases by the Trustees, but if there be doubt on the point it would be prepared to accept the suggestion made by the Lord President at the Report

Stage on May 11th that words should be added to the Bill to prevent the use of Titles by Trustees.

With regard to the use of "trade or firm names" that is quite a separate matter and does not involve the question of the use of Titles. This Society cannot admit that the word "Chemist" is a trade description to be used by anyone, and in fact the Act of Parliament expressly forbids its use by persons who do not possess the Statutory qualification.

I am,

Yours faithfully,

RICHARD BREMRIDGE,

S. FORREST COWELL, Esq.

Secretary.

XI. Varicocele.

The Council, having been consulted by the Director-General of the Army Medical Service as to whether, and, if so, to what extent, varicocele should be regarded as a disqualification for military service, expressed the following opinion, viz. :—

"Our opinion is that, in cases where candidates are otherwise physically fit, varicocele, unless present in a severe degree, need not disqualify them from service in the Army."

XII. Restoration to Membership.

Mr. Hugh Stanley Revell, who was removed from being a Member of the College in January 1905 in consequence of an offence committed by him while Medical Officer and Public Vaccinator to the Wandsworth and Clapham Union, has been restored to the Membership.

Mr. Revell, in support of his application for restoration, was able to produce satisfactory testimonials from various residents in the district, in which he formerly practised.

XIII. Removal of Licentiates in Dental Surgery.

The names of William McGregor Veitch, Thomas Wafer Byrne, and Isidore Clifford, having been erased from the Dentists' Register by order of the General Medical Council, have been removed from the List of Licentiates in Dental Surgery of this College in pursuance of the following clause of Section 13 of the Dentists' Act 1878, viz. :—

“Any name erased from the register in pursuance of this section shall also be erased from the list of licentiates in dental surgery or dentistry of the medical authority of which such person is a licentiate.”

Particulars of the offences of which these Licentiates were adjudged guilty by the General Medical Council are appended hereto, viz. :—

Mr. Veitch and Mr. Byrne were the only two Directors, and Mr. Veitch was the Secretary of the Company, and, with nominal exceptions, they held the whole of the shares; they employed an expert advertiser, and issued advertisements and circulars of an objectionable character, claiming superiority over other practitioners; and they employed an unqualified assistant at the address in London Road, and another unqualified assistant at Seacombe.

The General Medical Council “on the facts found in the enquiry before the Dental Committee,” considered that both the accused had been guilty of conduct infamous or disgraceful in a professional respect, and directed the Registrar to erase their names from the Dentists' Registrar.

(2) Isidore Clifford, L.D.S. R.C.S.Eng. 1887, of 20 Grosvenor Street, London, W., and three other persons of the same surname and address enrolled on the Dentists' Register as in practice before July 22, 1878, being Directors of a limited company named “The American Dental Institute, Ltd.,” were accused of carrying on Dental practice under the name of this Company at divers addresses in London, Manchester, and Liverpool; of employing in such practice unregistered assistants; and of making use of objectionable pamphlets and other means of advertising, by which they depreciated, and claimed for themselves superiority over, other practitioners. The General Medical Council found all these four accused persons guilty of conduct infamous or disgraceful in a professional respect, and directed the Registrar to erase their names from the Dentists' Register.

This is the first time that this provision of the Act has been called into effect, as all previous cases which have come under the censure of the General Medical Council have concerned persons who held no Diploma or Licence but were on the Register as having been in practice as dentists prior to July 1878, or persons who had been previously deprived of their Diploma or Licence by their College or Medical Authority.

XIV. Presentation of Honorary Medal.

The Honorary Gold Medal of the College has been presented to Sir Richard Havelock Charles, I.M.S., K.C.V.O., M.D., F.R.C.S.I., Professor of Surgery at the Medical College, Calcutta, in recognition of his researches into the Craniology and Morphology of the Tribes of India, and in appreciation of his gift of anthropological specimens to the Museum of the College.

The Collection presented to the Museum by Sir Richard Havelock Charles consists of 248 skulls, 16 skeletons, and other specimens, representative of many of the Castes and Tribes of India and other parts of Asia, and is specially valuable, as the Collector has been able to identify the majority of the skulls as belonging to certain individuals known before death.

XV. Jacksonian Prize.

The Jacksonian Prize for the year 1905 has been awarded to Mr. Reginald Cheyne Elmslie, F.R.C.S., of 81 St. Mary's Mansions, Paddington, for his essay on "The Pathology and Treatment of Deformities of the Long Bones due to disease occurring during and after Adolescence."

The subject for the year 1907 is "The Operative Surgery of the Heart and Lungs, including the Pericardium and Pleura."

XVI. Walker Prize.

The Walker Prize of £100 for the period 1901-1905 has been awarded to Carl Oluf Jensen, Professor of General Pathology and Pathological Anatomy at the Royal Veterinary and Agricultural School, Copenhagen.

Professor Jensen was unable to visit England to receive the Prize, which was, however, presented to him, on behalf of the Council, by the British Minister at Copenhagen.

The following is the Report of the Committee, upon whose recommendation the Council made the award, viz. :—

REPORT OF WALKER PRIZE COMMITTEE.

The Committee, appointed by the Council in pursuance of the Declaration of Trust for the Administration of the Walker Prize Fund, have duly taken into consideration the work done in the United Kingdom and elsewhere, either partially or wholly within the five years ending on the 1st December, 1905, in connection with the advancement of the knowledge of the Pathology and Therapeutics of Cancer.

The Committee have now to submit the following Report for the purpose of advising and assisting the Council in awarding the Prize :—

After receiving valuable advice and assistance from eminent American, Belgian, Danish, French, German, Italian, Swedish, Swiss, and British Surgeons and Pathologists regarding the work carried out in their respective countries, and after making careful examination of papers dealing with the pathology and treatment of Cancer published in various languages during the past five years, it became evident that in any report to be presented to the Council much important work could not be considered, because (i.) it had not been done within the prescribed time limit; (ii.) it had no direct bearing on the treatment of Cancer; (iii.) it was still being pursued, and the prize could scarcely be awarded to it at this stage of its progress; although it will fall under the consideration of the Council when the Walker Prize is next awarded.

The Committee are of opinion that Professor Carl O. Jensen, of Copenhagen, should receive the Prize on this occasion. His work is described in a letter from Professor Salomonsen of the State Serum Institute of Copenhagen, and we cannot do better than cite this.

1. The inoculation of Cancer from animal to animal had been made in comparatively few cases, and therefore afforded no decisive material for the study of Cancer. Professor Jensen first succeeded in discovering a tumour in the mouse which made the experimental investigation of Cancer on a large scale possible.

2. Professor Jensen first carried out a large series of inoculations through thirty-five generations, comprehending about 1000 mice, and thus gave the impulse to certain experimental investigations which are now being carried out in many laboratories in different parts of the world.

3. He thus made it possible to investigate, and was himself the first person to investigate systematically, the effect of different factors (heat, light, chemical agents, radium, etc.) on these Cancer-cells.

4. He has further demonstrated the possibility of producing an anti-cancer serum for mice by the injection of the crushed tumour into rabbits. The serum of rabbits which have been thus prepared has been injected into mice suffering from Cancer, with the result that the Cancer-tumours in many of them have disappeared absolutely and permanently.

In proposing Professor Jensen to the Council as a fitting recipient of the Walker Prize, we have been influenced not merely by the actual work which he has himself done in investigating the nature of Cancer and the effect of treatment upon it, but also by the extent to which he has opened up a field of research to those engaged in the study of Cancer on certain lines, enabling them to carry out their investigations over longer periods of time and under better and more determined conditions than have up to the present time been possible,

The Committee therefore recommend to the Council that the Walker Prize of £100 be awarded to Carl O. Jensen, Professor of Pathology in the Veterinary School at Copenhagen.

XVII. John Tomes Prize.

The John Tomes Prize for the period 1903-1905 has not been awarded.

The following is the Report of the Committee appointed to advise the Council in reference thereto, viz.:—

The Committee, appointed by the Council, in pursuance of Section XXX. of the Standing Rules relating to the administration of the John Tomes Prize Fund, have taken into consideration the original and other scientific work done either partially or wholly within the three years ending on the 31st December, 1905, by Licentiates in Dental Surgery of the Licensing Bodies of Great Britain and Ireland.

In the opinion of the Committee no work of sufficient value to justify the award of the Prize has been published within the prescribed time by persons qualified to receive the Prize.

The Committee are consequently unable to nominate anyone for the award of the Prize, and they recommend that the interest derived from the Fund during the three years ending on the 5th April, 1906, viz.: £26 11s. 0d., be invested to augment the capital of the Fund.

XVIII. Cartwright Prize.

No award has been made of the Cartwright Prize for the period 1901-1905, the first occasion of its being offered for competition.

The Council received the following Report from the Cartwright Prize Committee, viz.:—

The several members of the Committee have read the essay, bearing the motto "Per aspera ad astra," submitted in competition for the Cartwright Prize for the period 1901-1905.

This essay is on "The Bacteriology and Treatment of Chronic Suppuration in the Mouth and Antrum" and cannot be regarded as dealing adequately with the subject selected by the Council, viz.:—"The Surgical Diseases having their origin in abnormal or diseased conditions of the Teeth and their Structures, the essay to be illustrated by pathological and microscopical specimens."

The Committee accordingly are unable to award the Prize.

"The Prevention of Dental Caries" has been selected as the subject for essays to be submitted in competition for the Prize for the period 1906-1910.

The Prize will consist of the Cartwright Medal in Bronze with an honorarium of Seventy Pounds.

Candidates must be persons engaged in the study or practice of Dental Surgery and possessing Qualifications capable of registration under the Medical Acts of the United Kingdom. A Diploma or Licence in Dental Surgery without a Medical or Surgical Diploma or Degree will not be a sufficient qualification.

XIX. Begley Studentship.

Mr. Walter Burford Johnson of St. Thomas's Hospital has been appointed the first Begley Student in accordance with a Report from the Examiners in Anatomy and Physiology under the Conjoint Examining Board regarding the result of the Examination completed on the 4th April, 1906.

The following are the Regulations relating to this Studentship founded by the late Mrs. Jane Begley, widow of William Chapman Begley, a former Member of the College, viz. :—

Regulations of the Council.

4. The Studentship shall be awarded to the Candidate, if any, obtaining the highest number of marks in the Anatomical part of the Examination.

5. If two or more Candidates in the Anatomical part of the Examination shall obtain an equal number of marks being with respect to the other Candidates the highest number of marks obtained by any Candidate, reference shall be made to the marks obtained by them respectively in the Physiological part of the Examination, and on the combined result the adjudication shall be made; and, if their marks shall still be equal, it shall be open to the two senior Examiners in Anatomy appointed by the Royal College of Surgeons to call upon such Candidates to present themselves for further examination, or to take such other steps as may enable them to adjudicate in the matter.

6. The Examiners shall report their adjudication of the Studentship to the Council at the Meeting of the Council next succeeding the Examination.

7. The Stipend shall be paid yearly, and the Student shall receive the first instalment within three months after the award of the Studentship.

8. The Student shall be required, before payment of the second and third instalments respectively, to send to the Secretary of the Royal College of Surgeons of England a Certificate from the Dean of his Medical School to the effect that his conduct has been satisfactory and that he has been applying himself diligently to his studies, and should any Student fail to comply with this requirement he shall forfeit his Studentship and all future payments in respect thereof.

She now proposes to further bequeath to the College the residue of her estate to form the "Eliza Macloghlin Bequest," the income arising therefrom to be applied for the purpose of increasing the value of the Macloghlin Scholarships.

XXII. Fellows' Dinner.

The Fellows' Dinner was held in the Library of the College on Thursday, the 5th of July, 1906, after the election of Members of Council on that day. The Chair was taken by the President, Mr. John Tweedy, and 65 Fellows were present.

This is the third occasion on which the Dinner has been held in the College.

XXIII. Finance.*INCOME.

The gross Income of the College for the past year amounts to £25,361, being £394 less than the gross Income of the previous year.

As regards the receipts from the Conjoint Examining Board there is a small decrease of £108 in the Examination Fees, but this is more than met by an increase of £326 in the Receipts from Hire of Rooms and other incidental sources.

The fees for the Fellowship and for the Licence in Dental Surgery have diminished to some extent, a decrease of £364 being shown in the case of the former, and of £348 in that of the latter.

Additional investments cause an increase of £80 to appear under the head of Receipts from House Property and Investments.

Small increases occur in the remaining divisions of the Receipts, and it will thus be seen that the diminution in gross Income is mainly due to the fall in the Receipts from the Fellowship and Dental Examinations.

EXPENDITURE.

The Expenditure of the College for the past year amounts to £23,031, a difference of only £6 from the amount expended in the previous year.

The amount of the fees paid to the Examiners of the Conjoint Examining Board has increased to the extent of £88. In the Expenses at the Examination Hall there is the large increase of £636. A considerable portion of this increase is due to drainage repairs and sanitary improvements, which have been found necessary, and should not be regarded as a permanent charge upon the resources of the College.

The General Working Expenses of the College are £28 more and the Special Expenses of the Museum £27 less than in the previous year, and the sub-divisions of expenditure under these heads do not call for special comment.

The Special Expenses of the Library have increased to the extent of £200. This is partly due to expenditure on the repair of the bindings of old books specially authorised by the Council, and partly to the cost of providing improved electric-light fittings.

The Extraordinary Expenditure amounts to £644, and is £459 less than in the previous year. The principal item is a sum of £363 for the redecoration of Room V. of the Museum. This completes the redecoration of the Museum, the total cost of which, spread over three years, has amounted to £1095.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The balance of Income over Expenditure amounts this year to £2329.

During the year, a sum of £2700 Metropolitan Water Board B Stock has been added to the investments of the College.

THE MUSEUM.

THE Hunterian Collection, which forms the basis, and still a large proportion, of the contents of the present Museum of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, was originally arranged in a building which its Founder, John Hunter, erected for it in 1784, behind his house in Leicester Square.

John Hunter died October 16th, 1793, aged 65. By his will he directed the Museum to be offered in the first instance to the British Government, on such terms as might be considered reasonable, and in case of refusal to be sold in one lot, either to some foreign state, or as his executors might think proper.

In the year 1799 Parliament voted the sum of £15,000 for the Museum, and an offer of it being made to the Corporation of Surgeons, it was accepted on the terms proposed by Government*.

In 1806 the sum of £15,000 was voted by Parliament in aid of the erection of an edifice for the display and arrangement of the Hunterian Collection: a second grant of £12,500 was subsequently voted, and upwards of £21,000 having been supplied from the funds of the College, the building was completed in Lincoln's-Inn-Fields, in which the Museum was opened for the inspection of visitors in the year 1813.

In consequence of the large number of additions, this building became too small for the adequate display and arrangement of its contents; and more space being at the same time required for the rapidly increasing Library, the greater portion of the present building was erected, wholly at the expense of the College, in 1835, at

* The following are the Terms and Conditions on which the Hunterian Collection, purchased by Parliament, was delivered to the late Corporation of Surgeons; which Corporation having become dissolved, the Members thereof were re-incorporated by Charter, dated the 22nd day of March, 1800, under the Title of The Royal College of Surgeons in London:—

1st. The Collection shall be open Four Hours in the Forenoon of two days every week for Inspection and Consultation of the Fellows of the College of Physicians, the Members of the Company of Surgeons and Persons properly introduced by them; a Catalogue of the Preparations, and a proper Person to explain it, being at those times always in the Room.

† 2nd. That one Course of Lectures, not less than twenty-four in number, on Comparative Anatomy and other subjects, illustrated by the preparations, shall be given every year by some Member of the Company.

3rd. That the Preparations shall be kept in a state of Preservation, and the Collection in as perfect a state as possible, at the Expense of the Corporation of Surgeons, subject to the annual Inspection and Superintendence of the Trustees.

4th. That there shall be a Board of Trustees, to consist of sixteen (increased to seventeen by the Lords of the Treasury in 1856) Members, by virtue of their Public Offices, and of fourteen others, to be appointed, in the first instance, by the Lords of the Treasury, and afterwards to be elected, as Vacancies may happen, by a Majority of the remaining Trustees.

5th. That the Museum shall always be open for the Inspection of all or any of the said Trustees, who are to take care that the Corporation of Surgeons perform their Engagements respecting the said Collection. That a day be appointed for the annual Inspection of the Museum, by the Trustees acting collectively as a Board; and that they are also to have quarterly Meetings, for the transacting of any Business relative to the Museum, and for the filling up of such Vacancies as may happen in the number of the Trustees; and that the Corporation of Surgeons shall engage some person to officiate as Secretary to the Board upon such occasions, and to issue previous Notice to the Members, in which he is to state particularly whether any Vacancies are to be filled up by new Elections.

† This Clause was altered by permission of the Lords of the Treasury in 1894, to the following, viz.:—

2nd. That one Course of Lectures, not less than twelve in number, on Comparative Anatomy and other subjects, illustrated by preparations from the Hunterian Collection and the other contents of the Museum, shall be given every year by Fellows or Members of the College.

a cost of about £40,000, and the Hunterian and Collegiate Collections were rearranged in what are now termed Rooms Nos. III. and IV., which were opened for the inspection of visitors in 1836.

Further enlargement of the building having become necessary by the continued increase of the Collection, the College, in 1847, purchased the extensive premises of Mr. Alderman Copeland, in Portugal Street, for the sum of £16,000, and in 1852 proceeded to the erection of Room No. V., at the expense of £25,000, Parliament granting £15,000 in aid thereof. The rearrangement of the specimens was completed, and the additional portion of the building opened to visitors in 1855. The Collection still continuing to increase and more space having again become necessary, the College in 1888 determined to erect, at a cost of £19,000, two new Museums on the western side of the old structure. These buildings, called Rooms Nos. I. and II., were completed in 1891. Besides giving greater accommodation for the Collection in general they have also provided space for the display of photographs and drawings illustrating Diseases.

The Hunterian Collection was estimated to consist of 13,682 specimens, distributed under the following heads:—

Physiological Department, or Normal Structures.

Physiological preparations in spirit .....	3745
Osteological preparations .....	965
Dry do. ....	617
Zoological do. ....	1968
Fossils:—
Vertebrate .....	1215
Invertebrate .....	2202
Plants .....	292

Pathological Department, or Abnormal Structures.

Preparations in spirit .....	1084
Dry preparations (including bones) .....	625
Calculi and concretions .....	536
Monsters and Malformations .....	218
Microscopic preparations .....	215

Of the additions by which the size and value of the Collection have been so materially increased since it came into the possession of the College, very many have been presented by Fellows and Members of the College, and other persons interested in scientific pursuits. Among the largest contributions from this source have been the Collection, consisting of 847 specimens, presented in 1811 by Sir William Blizard; a valuable series of Pathological specimens presented in 1851 by Sir Stephen L. Hammick; and a Collection, presented in 1905 by Lt.-Colonel Sir Richard Havelock Charles, I.M.S., K.C.V.O., consisting of 248 skulls, and other specimens, representative of many of the Castes and Tribes of India. At the same time the Council of the College have availed themselves of various opportunities as they have occurred to purchase specimens of interest, especially at the dispersion of private anatomical and pathological museums, as that of Sir A. Lever in 1806, of Mr. Joshua Brookes in 1828, of Mr. Heaviside in 1829, Mr. Langstaff in 1835, Mr. South in the same year, Mr. Howship and Mr. Taunton in 1841, Mr. Liston in 1842, Mr. Walker in 1843, and, deserving of especial mention on account of the great number and value of the specimens acquired, those of Sir Astley Cooper in 1843 and Dr. Barnard Davis in 1880.

The Histological Collection, of which the 215 Hunterian specimens (prepared by Hewson) constitute the nucleus, was chiefly formed by the late Professor Quekett, with considerable additions by purchase from Dr. Tweedy J. Todd, Mr. Nasmyth, and Professor Lenhossek. It now contains upwards of 12,000 specimens, all arranged and catalogued so as to be readily available for reference.

The superintendence of the Museum is confided by the Council of the College to a Committee of its Members, which Committee has held five meetings during the past year.

A summary of the progress made in the preservation, arrangement, and augmentation of the Collection will be found in the following Report.

DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN AND COMPARATIVE ANATOMY.

During the past year the redecoration of the Museum, begun in 1903, was completed by the painting of Room V., and it is right that attention should be drawn to the magnitude of the task of moving and replacing the entire collection which this work entailed, and to the satisfactory manner in which it has been carried out. The fact that the collection has suffered practically no damage reflects great credit upon those responsible for the detailed arrangements of the removal (Mr. John Marle for the Osteological collections, and William Finerty for the Wet Preparations), and upon those working under them. An idea may be formed of the care necessary to avoid breakage when it is remembered that in Room V. alone the Wet Preparations number nearly 6000.

When replacing the specimens of the Physiological Series, the opportunity was taken to rearrange them according to the main grouping that is being followed in the new edition of the Catalogue. This naturally makes it in some cases difficult to find individual specimens, but a vast amount of unnecessary moving and removing of specimens will be obviated, and measures have been taken by fixing plans in each gallery, as was previously done in the case of the Pathological Series, and by other means to lessen as far as possible any difficulties that visitors may experience. In the case of the section illustrating Organs of Locomotion and Fixation, which was entirely remodelled some few years ago, it was found desirable to carry out the rearrangement in detail and to attach temporary numbers in addition to the old ones. This should not only greatly facilitate the understanding of the section, but will help to indicate what specimens are still required. It is proposed, when possible, to treat in a similar way the section dealing with the Integument. The opportunity was also taken when shifting the Osteological Series to remove many duplicate and other superfluous specimens from the wall cases where they had become dangerously crowded. These have either been hung on the staircases in connection with Room V., or arranged with the general collection of duplicate Osteological specimens in boxes upon shelves fitted in the Basement beneath Room I., and will there be easily accessible for special study. The cupboards in the Basement for duplicate Physiological specimens (not Hunterian), mentioned in the last Annual Report, are now occupied by a first selection of specimens removed from the Museum, and the duplicate or deteriorated Hunterian specimens kept in the Store Room at the end of Room V. have been further added to and listed.

The space necessary for the increasing number of specimens of Normal Human Anatomy in Room I. has been provided by the addition of two new tables similar to those already there.

The most notable addition to this Department has been in the Series of Human Osteology, Sir R. Havelock Charles, K.C.V.O., having presented a collection of over 200 skulls and some skeletons of natives of India of known races and castes. Mention should also be made of the skull of an aboriginal woman from Western Australia, presented by Mr. Earle Newton.

A very useful addition has been made to the preparations of Normal Human Anatomy by a series of dissected sections through the head and neck and arm, prepared by the Prosector (Mr. William Pearson).

Among the additions to the Physiological Series attention may be specially directed to the enlarged models of the brain of Myxine, Gadus, and Amia, presented by Professor Edinger; to the specimens showing the great development and complexity of the snout-muscles of the Pig; and to the specimen of the male reproductive organs of a Fruit-Bat (presented by Mr. E. E. Green), showing a strong band of muscle passing from the diaphragm to the tunica albuginea at the upper end of the testicle. As occasion offered preparations have been made of the membranous labyrinths of various genera of Sharks. One of these (Rhina squatina) is particularly interesting. It was known that this Shark had sand in the labyrinth in place of otoconia, but special difficulties had previously prevented the making of specimens. Now, however, all points in the anatomy of this labyrinth are fully illustrated.

The descriptions of the specimens to be contained in Volume III. of the new edition of the Catalogue of the Physiological Series, which were completed last year, have been revised, introductory notes and references added, and a list of the special collection of ear-bones and bony labyrinths incorporated with them. When the generic and specific names attached to the specimens have been made conformable with those at present accepted by the authorities at the British Museum, the manuscript will be ready for printing.

Conservator.

THE LIBRARY.

THE Library of the College dates from the year 1800, in July of which year the first grant of a sum not exceeding £50 was made for Library purposes. It had been the intention of the old Corporation of Surgeons to form a Library, but they failed to carry their intention into effect. In its early years the Library was considerably increased by presentations and bequests of books—the principal donors being Dr. Baillie, Sir Everard Home, Sir Charles Blicke, the widow of Mr. Sharp, Sir Ludford Harvey, Dr. Fleming, Mr. Cotton, and Mr. Long. The Court of Assistants also directed from time to time the expenditure of small sums of money for the purchase of books. Sir Charles Blicke, in the year 1816, invested the sum of £300, the proceeds of which were to be devoted to the same object. By these means extensive purchases were from time to time made from the libraries of Mr. Pitt, Mr. St. André, Sir Anthony Carlisle, and others. The progress of the Library, however, for the first twenty-six years of its existence was very slow, but in 1827 great efforts were made to put it in a thoroughly good condition; in that and the two subsequent years the sum of £5269 was spent in the purchase of books, and in 1829 the first Librarian was appointed. The College was practically rebuilt by Sir Charles Barry in 1835-36, and during that period the Library was closed, the books being packed in cases and stored in the Museum Gallery. On the 15th of February, 1837, the Library was re-opened, the rooms in the new building allotted to this department being the Reading-Room and the Librarian's Room. From this date until 1888 very little extra accommodation had been provided for the Library, a small Committee-Room had been fitted up with shelves and room made for a few books under the Theatre.

The munificent gift of Sir Erasmus Wilson enabled the Council in 1888 very materially to increase the Library accommodation, and at the same time to improve and re-decorate the existing building. The residence of the Conservator of the Museum at the east end of the College was pulled down, and the building erected on its site was devoted to Library purposes. On a level with the old Reading-Room an extension was built, the two rooms being connected by four archways, two on the ground and two in the Gallery. Beneath this a handsome Book-Room was provided, and below that a spacious Store-Room. The new building, as at present shelved, gives accommodation for 26,000 volumes. The Librarian's Room was considerably improved by throwing into it a loft above the old ceiling and a passage which led into the Reading-Room.

The whole of the Library premises were re-decorated, and the Electric Light was installed throughout. The heating apparatus, which was under the floor at the south side of the Library, was all removed, and in its place a coil of hot-water pipes was placed in each window. The gallery railing, being in an unsafe condition, was replaced by one of a stronger pattern.

This extension of the Library made it possible to re-arrange the books in such a way as to make them more accessible to readers. In the Gallery of the Extension stand the books on Anatomy, Physiology, Pathology, Medicine and Surgery; round the Reading-Room are ranged sets of the Periodicals and Transactions in greatest demand. There is also a good collection of dictionaries, encyclopedias, systems and general books of reference, conveniently arranged for the use of readers.

The lower room contains books on Chemistry and Physics, Materia Medica and Therapeutics, Forensic Medicine, Diseases of Women and Children, History of Medicine and Surgery, Biography and Bibliography. The basement is devoted to old sets of Journals and Transactions, a collection of Theses, and to miscellaneous books.

The Librarian's Room contains the books on Biology, and certain valuable works which are kept in glass cases.

The current numbers of the Journals are displayed on tables down the middle of the Reading-Room: four of these are fitted with sliding trays, in which books too large for the wall-cases, and illustrated works still in progress, are kept. The new books are placed on a stand in the centre of the Room: these are catalogued directly they are received, and are at once available for readers. A list of the additions is posted in the Library.

The first Catalogue of the Library was issued in 1831. A classed Catalogue was prepared by Dr. Willis, and was in use in MS. for some years; in 1838 a synopsis of it was printed, and the work itself was published in 1843. In 1853 an index of subjects was issued, and four supplements to the Author Catalogue were published between the years 1840 and 1860. In 1890 a List of Transactions, Periodicals, and Memoirs in the Library was published. A new Catalogue of Authors and Subjects is now being prepared on cards; these are kept in two cabinets at the west end of the Reading-Room, and are available for use by the readers. When the work is finished the cards can be used as copy for the printers.

The Library is particularly rich in the Transactions of Societies, and in Periodicals relating not only to Medicine and Surgery, but also to the accessory sciences. The large illustrated works on Zoology, Anatomy, &c., are also well represented. There is a good collection of Portraits of Members of the Medical Profession.

In December 1892 a Common Room for the use of Fellows and Members was opened in the Reading Room adjoining the Hall.

A new Store Room for books was fitted up on the basement in 1901.

During the past year the supply of books and journals has been well kept up.

The Donations to the Library from October, 1905, to July, 1906, include 319 pamphlets; "Mr. Eyles's copy of Dr. Joseph Adams's Account of Mr. Hunter's Lectures on the Principles of Surgery," MS. with title by William Clift; a very valuable interleaved copy with rare prints of Wadd's "Mems. Maxims and Memoirs," 2 vols., 1827; Gaddesden's "Rosa Anglica," 1516, and Cesar Optatus Citareus "Opus Tripartitum de Crisi," 1517, in one volume; a Seventeenth Century MS. in Greek on Medicine, attributed to Johannes Mulaimus; an Italian MS. in 2 vols. on Surgery; Killian's "Accessory Sinuses of the Nose," translated by Paterson, 1904; Frank Buckland's "Curiosities of Natural History," Series I.-IV., 1891-93; Debierre and Doumer's "Vues Stéréoscopiques des Centres Nerveux"; a Thesis on the "Physical Proportions" of the Japanese; a volume in MS. entitled "The Stone Testimonial Fund" and a "Doctor's Bill" (1763-1773)—all from the ex-President, Mr. John Tweedy; a letter of Mr. C. Hutchinson (West Highlands) to Sir Joshua Brooks, a letter from Dr. Blundell of Guy's to Mr. Thomas Bryant on Ovariectomy, and a photograph of the tomb of the farmer who introduced the Cow Pox by Inoculation in 1774, from Mr. Thomas Bryant; "Souvenir of Sir Thomas Browne" with programmes, etc. of the Norwich celebration, and other works from Mr. Edmund Owen; 14 volumes from the library of her uncle Mr. James Henry Ceely from Mrs. Ceely (through Mr. Bryant); a copy of Fuller's "Pharmacopœia Extemporanea," with rare binding and fastening, from Mrs. Mead (through Mr. E. Owen); the late Mr. Macloghlin's "Deliberate Writings," edited and presented by Mrs. Macloghlin; "Bibliotheca Chemica," 2 vols., being a catalogue of the books dealing with Alchemy, Chemistry, etc. in the library of the late James Young, of Kelly and Durris; his work on "Leprosy and Fish-eating," from Mr. Jonathan Hutchinson; his work on "Urethrotomies and Kidney Capsulotomy" from Mr. Reginald Harrison; Thomas Paynel's "Regiment of Health" (black letter), 1512, from Mr. Batterham; "Dr. Garth the Kit-Kat Poet," by Harvey Cushing, from Professor Osler; Walsham's "Surgery," Edit. 9, from the Editor, Mr. W. G. Spencer; works on "Spinal Caries" and "Spinal Curvature" from Mr. Heather Bigg; 48 volumes of old works on Medicine, Midwifery, etc., from the Library of the Medical School of St. Thomas's Hospital; 23 pamphlets, including the results of the "Skeat Expedition," from the Superintendent of the University Museum of Zoology, Cambridge; and "Livre d'Or offert au Professeur S. Pozzi, en souvenir de vingt années d'enseignement à l'Hôpital Broca," from the contributors to the book.

During the past year the Library has been open 271 days, and the number of readers has been 11,267.

that the Library is used by them for such purposes of study as they may be unable to pursue without the aid of books not accessible elsewhere. These tickets are granted for three months, at the expiration of which time application must be made for their renewal if the holder wishes to retain the privilege of reading in the Library.

The Catalogue in course of preparation is in a Cabinet at the west end of the room. Readers are requested to make personal application to the Librarian for any book they do not find in the Catalogue, as it must of necessity be incomplete for some time.

Readers, taking extracts from any book, may not lay the paper on which they write on any part of such book; nor may any tracings be taken from any plate without the permission of the Librarian.

Books belonging to the College are not to be written upon; and any one observing a defect in a book, is requested to report the same to the Librarian.

Readers desirous of consulting works not in the Library are requested to enter their wants in a book provided for that purpose, in order that the same may be reported to the Committee.

Every person before admission to the Library is required to insert his name and residence in a book provided for that purpose.

NOTE.—It is not intended that Essays should be submitted in competition for this Prize, or that those who are anxious to obtain it should be called upon to submit their names as Candidates. 5. The Prize shall be awarded by the Council on the recommendation of a Committee at the Quarterly Meeting of the Council in the April following the expiration of the triennial period. The Council shall, however, withhold the Prize if, in the opinion of the Committee, no work within the prescribed time be of sufficient merit to justify its award, and in such case shall either invest the dividends to augment the capital of the Fund, or adjudge the Prize to the author of some original research, deserving recognition, in other than dental subjects, which may have been carried out by any person eligible for the Prize.

6. The Committee shall consist of five members, and shall be appointed by the Council not less than one year prior to the date of the award of the Prize. The Committee shall not of necessity be confined to Members of the Council.

7. No essays shall be submitted in competition for the Prize in the case of the next award, which shall be for the period ending the 31st December, 1908; but it shall be open to the Committee to recommend to the Council that essays should be called for before any subsequent award.
